Baltimore, Md., Nov. 19.—Nine bodies had been recovered late to-day from the burning hulk of the Mantilla, Norwegian oil tanker, which blew up in the drydock at the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Company here. Officials said it had been established beyond reasonable doubt that eight more bodies either had been destroyed in the fire which followed the explosion or had been blown overboard into the water and temporarily lost.

Between seventy and seventy-five men were injured. The Mantilla was owned by W. Withelmsen of Ponsberg, Norway. TANK BLEW UP

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 19.—Seventeen men were reported killed and seventy-five injured as workers plunged frantically into the burning hulk of the Norwegian oil tanker Mantilla, wrecked by an explosion in the drydock of the Bethlehem Steel Company at Sparrows Point here this afternoon.

The Mantilla's crew of thirty-five was for the most part on or near the vessel, with an undetermined number of drydock workers, when one of the ship's tanks blew up from an unknown cause. Captain Nils Danielson was in the drydock office a few yards away.

Rescue workers reported many of the injured had been brought out with their clothing afire and with arms or legs severed. The majority of the Mantilla's crew are natives of Norway.

Pieces of steel were hurled more than 100 yards by the blast. Officials said that if the explosion had occurred ten minutes later, as most of the workmen would then have been off the vessel.

FURTHER TROUBLE IN TORY CAMP; BURNABY MEETING CHALLENGED

Protests in Far Away Atlin, Too; Oak Bay Returns Former Ladner Delegation

While Island Conservatives were ironing out their troubles in Oak Bay and preparing to do so in Saanich, fresh strife broke out in the Party camp on the mainland to-day with an attempt to invalidate the election of provincial convention delegates in Burnaby, while in the far northern district of Atlin serious complaints were filed against the methods used in the election there.

Charging "machine methods" and alleging the delegates from Burnaby to the Kamloops Conservative convention, were chosen at a central meeting after a resolution had previously directed that the different district associations hold separate meetings for their selection, a petition was forwarded to J. E. Carpenter, secretary of the B.C. executive protesting the election.

MEETING ILLEGAL? The petition which is signed by more than eighty members of the Association in Burnaby sets out that the meeting where the delegates were chosen was not empowered to elect the whole of the quota for the district. During his term in the reeve ship he was a dominant figure in Greater Victoria as well as Saanich affairs.

Another complaint, which is expected to be satisfactorily adjusted, arises out of the selection for delegates for Atlin. The Conservatives of Stewart, allege that they were not given a fair chance of being disfranchised, they held a meeting and elected a full quota, stipulating that if the B.C. Executive decided they were not entitled to the number chosen they would be satisfied with their just proportion.

OAK BAY FOR LADNER The Ladner forces carried Oak Bay last night by a small majority at a meeting attended by over 300. They elected the entire slate of delegates who were elected at a meeting some time ago. This meeting was invalidated by the central provincial executive in order and had been held in accordance with the well-established practices of the Association, as the body possessed no constitution.

factly in order and had been held in accordance with the well-established practices of the Association, as the body possessed no constitution. The former meeting, he said, had been held at short notice because the central executive in Victoria had required an early choice of delegates.

Fire To-day in Regina Liquor Warehouse

Regina, Nov. 19.—While firemen were still fighting a fire which gained a hold in the Saskatchewan Liquor Board's main storage warehouse here, the blaze this afternoon was under control, and it was considered unlikely it would spread below the fifth floor of the building, on which it commenced. The main stocks of liquor on lower floors, valued at over half a million dollars, had not been damaged.

GEORGE WATSON TO SEEK REVEESHIP OF SAANICH AGAIN

George Watson, for long a prominent figure in the public affairs of Saanich, will run again for the reeve ship of the municipality, it was generally understood in Saanich to-day. A definite announcement from Mr. Watson is anticipated when he speaks at a meeting in Ward Three to-night. At this meeting, it is understood, he may outline the platform on which he hopes to be elected.

Mr. Watson was reeve of Saanich for several years, after serving for a long period as a member of the council. During his term in the reeve ship he was a dominant figure in Greater Victoria as well as Saanich affairs. Three years ago he was defeated for the reeve ship by Robert Macnicol, the present incumbent. Since then he has taken no part in public affairs.

FOUNDRY SUGGESTION "If Mr. Nickle will come with me into a foundry and make a casting with me, thereby coming into the field of my own work, I will go on the platform with him and debate the liquor question," said the mayor.

"Politics has been Mr. Nickle's work for thirty years," he continued, "and there is just as much logic to my asking him to come into a foundry and make a casting as there is in his request that I go on the public platform to debate with him."

At the Russell Hubbard, who nominally carries a crew of thirty-one, was overdue.

McCREA UNOPPOSED Among the constituencies in which there are no contests is St. George's, where Hon. Charles McCrea, Conservative, so far, has no official candidate opposing him.

The blank in Toronto, St. Georges, will be filled to-night. In Regina, where Hon. C. A. Matheson, Conservative, is so far unopposed. Speaking in Guelph last night, Premier Ferguson stated that he was all desirous of having a sober responsible man to carry the banner of those who believe suppression promotes sobriety.

More Than One Candidate in All But Half Dozen Constituencies

Toronto, Nov. 19.—To-morrow official nominations will be made in the constituencies of Ontario for the provincial general election to be held December 1. Party line-ups are practically completed and fewer than half a dozen constituencies now lack contesting candidates. There are 112 seats in the Legislature.

To-day W. E. N. Sinclair, Liberal leader, who is opposing the Conservative government liquor control policy, is in his home town of Oshawa, where he will address a meeting to-night.

Premier G. H. Ferguson this afternoon will speak in Beaverton and to-night in Lindsay.

There is an interesting contest in Kingston, where W. F. Nickle, who resigned as Attorney-General after Premier Ferguson had announced his liquor control policy, is a Prohibition candidate and opposed by Alderman T. A. Kidd, Conservative, and Mayor T. G. Angrove, Independent.

Both of whom support the government liquor control proposals. Mr. Nickle invited both his opponents to meet him on public platforms to debate the liquor question, but neither will do so.

FOUNDRY SUGGESTION "If Mr. Nickle will come with me into a foundry and make a casting with me, thereby coming into the field of my own work, I will go on the platform with him and debate the liquor question," said the mayor.

JOINS DISCUSSION OF WAR EVENTS WITH FOCH; KING ALBERT

Paris, Nov. 19.—Marshal Foch has replied to a letter from King Albert of Belgium which categorically denied Foch's quoted assertion that he had persuaded Albert not to allow the Belgians to retreat from the Yser in 1918.

The marshal will probably allow sufficient time for the King to receive and consider the communication before permitting its publication.

Albert's letter said that when General Foch called upon him on November 16, 1914, his own proclamation to the Belgian troops that mention of retreat would mean disaster was already three days old.

STURGEON BAY, WISCONSIN, Nov. 19.—Five coal-carrying ships were overdue here to-day, following a big November storm on the Great Lakes, and an additional three will be chucked up on the list here if they do not arrive before midnight.

From Ashland, Minn., the report that the Russell Hubbard, who nominally carries a crew of thirty-one, was overdue.

It had previously been feared the Steamer Andaste, missing since a big storm last Wednesday night, had come into port here Thursday night. Capt. Frank Savage said his vessel had run into a terrific storm in the middle of Lake Michigan and when near Milwaukee found heavy seas running.

SAINT STE. MARIE, Mich., Nov. 19.—A steamship wrecked, another in distress, the collapse of dock and the destruction of several fishing boats were items of storm damage that were reported here to-day over crippled communication lines.

ALL WESTERN PROVINCES TO JOIN IN ATTACK ON TRAFFIC AT EARLY SESSIONS IN CITY

Attorneys-General of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia Called Into Conference Here Next Week to Map Out Programme for Royal Commission; Local Sitting to Form Most Intensive Smuggling Investigation in West

Representatives of the four Western provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia will assemble here before the end of November to tell the Royal Commission on Smuggling all they know about the smuggling business.

Under arrangements announced here to-day the four provinces will join in their representations at the Commission's Victoria session, which thus will be the most important held in Western Canada.

Meanwhile, heads of the legal departments of the four Provincial Governments will assemble here in the middle of next week to prepare for their representations to the commission. This conference will be attended by Attorney-General A. M. Macdonald, of British Columbia; Attorney-General J. F. Lyburn, of Alberta; Attorney-General J. A. Cross, of Saskatchewan, and Attorney-General R. W. Craig, of Manitoba. Together they will work out a programme which will give the commission an insight into the smuggling traffic of Western Canada.

MASSIVE EVIDENCE PLANNED Evidence on the whole smuggling problem will be presented to the investigators by officials of the western Provincial Governments. It is anticipated also that the commission will hear summaries of the smuggling problem from the attorneys-general personally.

ALL PHASES COVERED Every phase of the smuggling business, from the running of liquor to the handling of merchandise illicitly, will be covered in these representations. British Columbia representatives are expected to stress the liquor running business, which is held responsible for most of this Province's bootlegging troubles.

DATE TO BE FIXED The exact date of the commission's Victoria sitting has not been communicated to the Provincial Governments yet. The commission is expected to come here before the end of November, however.

The investigators will come direct to the Coast from Ottawa to hold the Victoria sitting, which will be the most formidable inquiry of its kind ever held in the West. Probably some days will be required to complete the investigation, and in the proceedings highly sensational evidence, it is expected, will be presented.

CUBA'S SUGAR CUT PUTS PRICES HIGHER

Island Government Decides Next Crop Will Not Exceed
4,500,000 Tons

Havana, Cuba, Nov. 19.—Cuba's next sugar crop will not exceed 4,500,000 tons, a presidential decree announced.

The advisory commission appointed by President Machado recommended that the crop be limited to not more than 4,500,000 tons. The decree also provides for the commencement of actual cutting of cane on January 1, thus delaying starting of the mills for a few days after the start of next year.

A world sugar conference is provided for at the end of the harvest, to meet in Havana, for a complete study of the world sugar problem.

ROADHOUSE CASES BEFORE MAGISTRATE

Prosecutor in Vancouver Says
no Delay Wanted; Two Waiters Sentenced

Vancouver, Nov. 19.—A clash between J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., prosecutor, and Robert Smith, who accused persons from the Kingsway and Bungalow Roadhouses, featured the trial before Magistrate H. C. Baxter of the service police court here to-day. Charles Russell, Russell pleaded not guilty to a charge of being the keeper of a common gaming house at the Kingsway Roadhouse.

The trouble came when Mr. Smith asked for the production of reports made to Sergeant John Macdonald on which the officer based an application to Magistrate Alexander for a warrant to search the Kingsway. Mr. Farris opposed the motion and said the prosecution did not have to show the reports, the case proceeded. The accused were properly before the court.

It is presumed the men, the first two of whom were deck hands, and the third, a lookout, perished either in the flames or by drowning.

BAGS WITH LIQUOR AD TO SMUGGLERS

Customs Commission is Told Distilleries' Shipment
Privilege is Mistake

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—Liquor and narcotic drug smuggling were the subjects before the customs inquiry at its session here this morning.

G. W. Taylor, acting Deputy Minister of Customs, after telling the commissioners the placing of liquor in flour or sugar bags, which is being smuggled, stated some Canadian distilleries were now permitted to ship for export liquor in cases "in bond" with bags.

Mr. Taylor said that in June of this year he had become aware of the fact that a Canadian distillery was shipping liquor in cases with bags. This practice had been going on for months, and he discovered it prevailed among at least five out of the nineteen Canadian distilleries. He had ordered the practice stopped either on instructions of Hon. H. H. Stevens, then Minister of Customs, or Hon. J. D. Chaplin, who was acting Minister of Customs during Mr. Stevens' illness. He was not quite sure which.

PROTESTS MADE

This order had brought protests from the distillers, the witness said. Representations had been made to Mr. Chaplin that the regulation was injuring their business. The representations, as far as he knew, had come from the "president of a Toronto distillery" and from Mr. Ferguson of Winnipeg, general solicitor of the Distillers' Association. There might have been other protests received by the Minister.

PRACTICE PERMITTED

Finally, on instructions of Mr. Chaplin, the practice of bottled liquor in cases with bags had been permitted in case of shipments in bond where a genuine landing certificate was obtained. The change had been made because of representations that this practice was permitted in Great Britain, and that the regulation was hurting the business of the Canadian distillers.

SAYS SMUGGLING AIDED

Mr. Taylor said he thought the shipment of liquor in cases with bags was opposed to the spirit of the anti-smuggling treaty between Canada and the United States. Cases could be broken by smugglers, the liquor

INSTALLMENT PLAN CAUSE OF MANY DIVORCES IN U.S.

Living Above Means is De-nounced by N.Y. Lawyer

Chicago, Nov. 18.—The age old picture of the mother-in-law as a cause of domestic woe is all wrong, concludes Charles E. Erbstein, who cites a record of his divorce cases to prove that the mother-in-law angle entered into so few as to be almost negligible. Out of 1,772 divorce cases in which he has appeared as counsel, only six could be attributed to mothers-in-law, said the attorney, who gave as the most prolific cause of legal separation "the light oak piano or the purple plush patent chair in the parlor"—meaning "installment plan" buying of furniture.

SUTHERLAND SEEKS UNIFORM SYSTEM OF SIGNS ON HIGHWAYS

Will Meet Municipal Representatives to Lay New Scheme Before Them

Adoption of standard highway signs to be erected in every part of British Columbia will be the object of a meeting between heads of the Public Works Department and municipal officials in Vancouver next Tuesday. Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, who will attend the conference personally, has invited municipalities in all parts of the Province to participate.

Dr. Sutherland will lay before the municipal representatives a carefully-prepared scheme of highway signs and ask that municipalities adopt it within their own areas. Any amendments which the municipalities care to suggest will be given consideration before the new signs are erected.

WANTS UNIFORM SYSTEM
Tuesday's conference represents the first definite attempt to equip this Province's highways with standard signs, which will be familiar and intelligible to all motorists. The need of such a system has been recognized for years but the erection of different types of signs by municipal authorities in various districts has produced a hodge-podge arrangement. If the municipalities will co-operate with the Public Works Department, as they are expected to do, the new standard signs, as carefully planned out by officials here, will be gradually erected in all districts until at last they have superseded all those in existence now.

PLIMLEY'S GARAGES TO COST LARGE SUM

Building of First Structure Commenced; Total Cost Will Reach $60,000

Parfitt Bros. Limited, contractors for the new Thomas Plimley Limited garage on Yates Street, yesterday took out a $10,000 building permit, and commenced work on the new structure. This new garage will be situated at 1015 Yates Street. It will be a one-story brick structure with a floor area of 7,200 square feet, 120 feet in length and sixty feet in width. Ralph Berrill is the architect.

Plimley will shortly commence work on a second garage, which, from the design of Percy Fox, will be located at the intersection of Vancouver and Yates Street. This second garage will be much larger than the first. Its total cost will reach approximately $37,000.

The floor area of the larger garage will be 18,000 square feet. It will be 150 feet in length and 120 feet in width. This place will be used exclusively for the Chrysler automobiles.

The total expenditure on the two buildings will be approximately $47,000.

INCREASED BUILDING

Building permits taken out for November of this year show a decided increase over those for 1925. So far the total for November is $31,790, as compared with $14,000 for the same period of time last year. This gives an increase of $17,790, or more than 100 per cent.

Building permits taken out thus far this year have already far surpassed the 1925 total. It is announced. There are still approximately forty-five days left before the close of the year. Up to yesterday the total value of permits taken out in 1926 was $59,108, as against $54,147 for 1925. For the same period of time last year the figure shows an increase of $150,349.

Maoris Score Try Just Before Time And Tie up Score

Northampton, Eng. Nov. 18.—Coming from behind in the second half of a game that was played in wretched weather and on a sodden field before 9,000 spectators here yesterday, the New Zealand Maori played the selected East Midland fifteen to a sixpoint draw in a game under the auspices of the Rugby Union.

The Antipodeans were three points in arrears at half-time, and remained in that situation until near the end of the game, when a brilliant try by Palwasser brought the equality.

In the first twelve minutes play a breakaway from the New Zealand territory ended in Lockwood dashing over for a brilliant try.

Millward, a few minutes later, evened up the score when he touched down for the home team. The game continued fast and furious, and just a few minutes before the interval Birch, with a lovely swerving run, romped home, putting the Englishmen ahead.

The resumption for the second period found the play mostly in the hands of the Maoris, who kept the English defence busy, and defeat was averted when Palwasser dashed over the line.

Rebels in Mexico Number 20,000

Los Angeles, Nov. 19.—More than 20,000 men are in arms in various states in Mexico in a general rebellion against the Calles regime, Adolfo de La Huerta, former provisional President of Mexico, announced here to-day. Leaders of every unit, with the exception of one, have proclaimed De La Huerta their leader, he said.

Ex-Maharajah Visits California

San Francisco, Nov. 19.—The ex-Maharajah of Indore, India, a staid centre of an internationally famous scandal involving the beautiful actress, Mrs. M. B. Begum, is visiting San Francisco for a few days. He will go from here to Los Angeles. When he arrived here yesterday he wore a turban and the flowing robes of his select Indian "harem."

The former powerful potentate is traveling under the unassuming name, "T. Raja."

Seattle, Nov. 19.—Mrs. Louis Shafer of Seattle, mother of Mrs. Jennie Miller and grandmother of Nancy Ann Miller, ex-University of Washington co-ed, both of whom are touring the Pacific Coast as members of the party of the ex-Maharajah of Indore, India, told the Associated Press that after their visits in San Francisco and Los Angeles, Mrs. Miller would be the former Maharajah's hostess in Seattle.

Mrs. Shafer said the prince "is a gentleman."

Mrs. Jennie Miller is the widow of John Miller, maker of a quarter of a million dollars as one of the discoverers of a mine 175 miles inland from Valdez, Alaska.

"I am only too glad to have my daughter and granddaughter meet members of that party," declared Mrs. Shafer, a small, spare woman, appearing about eighty years old. He reports that he was mixed up in a murder case.

Louis Shafer, a large man, came to Seattle with his wife in 1887 from Switzerland, where both were born. The Millers were married here in 1898, about the time gold was discovered in the Klondike Valley, 239 miles northeast of Valdez and in the Yukon Territory, Canada.

Since the death of Jennie here in 1916, Mrs. Miller has taken five trips to India by way of Europe. On two trips her mother and her daughter were with her.

The grandchild, grandmother, mother and daughter have their home in one house here.

Mrs. Shafer said Mrs. Miller was fifty years old and Nancy Miller nineteen.

Workers in cotton mills of Bombay, India, will have shorter working hours.

Elephant's Skull Given to Alberta College Museum

Calgary, Nov. 19.—Myrtle, the great pachyderm which ran through woods of southeastern British Columbia during the early part of last August, has made her contribution to science. Her skull has been presented to the University of Alberta.

The elephant's remains, including the preserved skull, scalp and forefeet were shipped with difficulty by J. A. Ironside, circus agent. They have been added to the zoological relics at the university.

Motorists in Britain who wish to do part of their traveling by train may do so, carrying their cars at special rates.

LAND CLASSIFIED BEFORE SETTLEMENT

Toronto Forestry Expert Tells of Progress of System in Quebec Province

Toronto, Nov. 19.—Classification of the soils and forest types found in the province of Quebec is progressing at the rate of some 225,000 acres a year under the direction of the Quebec Forest Service, states Dr. C. P. Howe, dean of the faculty of forestry of the University of Toronto.

These surveys have been operating for the last ten or fifteen years in advance of new settlement and lumbering operations. The province of Quebec is thus able to direct land settlement intelligently and prevent the waste and despair occasioned by abandoned farms.

Forests are classified into types and their yield in merchantable wood is estimated. The soils are classified as sands, loams and clays, agricultural and non-agricultural. The information collected is placed in the form of maps, where it is readily available.

Since 1922 the timber and pulpwood operators on Government lands in Quebec have been required to make an inventory of their holdings. This has led to an extensive classification of the forest lands in that province, and an accumulation of data that is of value to the forest service in administering forest lands.

THOS. BENNETT DIED IN NELSON

Nelson, B.C., Nov. 19.—Thomas Bennett, who came to this district nearly forty years ago and was a pioneer locator and mine owner of the Sheep Creek "Gold Camp," died yesterday in the Kootenay Lane General Hospital here, aged seventy-seven. In the early days he had the controlling interest in the Yellowstone, Kootenay Belle and Mother Lode Mines, all well-known producers. He removed from Brockville, Ont., to Vancouver in 1887, coming here a year or two later. A son and daughter and brother live in California; a brother, Albert Bennett, and a sister, Mrs. H. E. Fennell, in Vancouver; and a brother in Brockville. He had lived for many years in Nelson, but latterly at Ymir.

"Ginger" Snook, Winnipeg, Died

Winnipeg, Nov. 19.—Robert Snook, well known to two generations of the citizens of Winnipeg, died here yesterday at the age of ninety-two years. "Ginger," as he was familiarly known, was a contracting excavator, but had become a unique figure through his picturesque activities in connection with the civic government. He attended all council meetings and most of the committee meetings and voiced many complaints. He ran for office successfully many times. He had resided here since 1882.

TEN-YEAR SENTENCE GIVEN

Barcelona, Nov. 19.—Masaros Torrente, who last August threw a dagger at Gen. Primo de Rivera when the Premier was driving to a railway station here, yesterday was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment at hard labor. The Premier escaped injury at the time, but kept the dagger as a souvenir.

BECOMES MEMBER OF THE NEW EMPIRE MARKETING BOARD

RT. HON. J. H. THOMAS

London, Nov. 19 (Canadian Press Cable)—Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, who was Secretary to the Colonies in the MacDonald-Labor Government, has accepted the invitation of Lieut.-Colonel L. C. Amery, Secretary for Dominion Affairs, to join the Empire Marketing Board. Thomas Johnston, Labor member for Dundee, has also accepted an invitation to join the marketing board's publicity committee.

EGG SHELLS TESTED WITH HEAVY SLEDGE

Ithaca, N.Y., Nov. 20.—T sixteen-pound sledge has been assigned the unusual duty in the poultry department at Cornell University of demonstrating the strength of shells of hen's eggs.

The hammer is raised and lowered automatically, and when it strikes the egg the pressure is registered by a scale. Extra pressure is applied as desired by adjusting a spring attached to a handle.

Average eggs stand twenty-three pounds without breaking, and on several trials eggs have stood nearly fifty pounds. The purpose of this demonstration is to show the ordinary pressure which an egg will stand and to show why it is desirable to produce eggs with strong shells. Strong-shelled eggs ship best and evaporate least. This prolongs their freshness and pleases the consumer.

The breaking strength of eggs indicates, to some extent, breeding and feeding of the hens. Miners may make a part of the ration, and in this connection cod liver oil is an aid, for it helps the assimilation of minerals by the birds. Previously the breaking strength has been tested by placing the eggs between two hardwood blocks.

While zealously fighting a blaze, the volunteer fire department of Burlington, England, drained the village pond and left the fish floundering in the mud.

CANADA'S WOOD AND PAPER RETURNS RIVER OF GOLD

Exports From Forests and Mills to U.S. in Year Valued at $241,745,337

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—Canada's exports of wood and paper to the United States are increasing. They now form more than one-half of the country's total domestic exports to the United States. In the month of September alone, out of total Canadian exports, to the United States valued at $39,645,239, wood and paper accounted for $20,619,066.

The September figures are not exceptional. The flow of Canadian wood and paper to the south is a great and constant movement. More and more Canada's forests are being used to supply the needs of newspaper and periodical readers and others in the United States. In return United States dollars flow north to Canada.

$241,745,337 IN YEAR

The export figures for the one month cited, September, 1926, are typical. Government statistics now available show the wood and paper exports from Canada to the United States during the twelve-month period ended September 30 last, reached a total valuation of $241,745,337. As in the single month, this represented more than one-half of the total Dominion exports to the United States during the twelve months, which amounted to $468,833,685. When the values of wood and paper exports to the United States during the twelve months just mentioned, is compared with that of the preceding twelve-month period, it is found Canadian exports during the twelve months ended September last increased by over $11,000,000.

COMPARISONS MADE

Canada's exports of wood and paper to the United States are greater in value than any single class of goods imported by Canada from the United States. In the twelve months ended September last, Canada imported iron and its products (the largest single article of importation from the United States) to the value of $190,098,829. She exported wood and paper valued at $241,745,337 during the same period. In contrast to the heavy movement of wood and paper from Canada, imports of these commodities by Canada from the United States during the twelve months were valued at but $38,296,908, or approximately one-sixth of the Canadian export. The export of Canadian agricultural and vegetable products to the United States is far below that of wood and paper in value, although it comes next in the list. For the twelve months ended September 30 last, domestic export of agricultural and vegetable products to the United States were valued at $64,794,323.

MUCH NEWSPRINT SOLD

Some of the principal items which go to make up the grand total of wood and paper exports from Canada to the United States during the twelve months ended September 30 last were as follows: Wood, unmanufactured, $110,218,780; and pulpwood, $13,457,638.

Alcohol Deaths Lead to Verdict of Manslaughter

Milton, Ont., Nov. 19.—Bert d'Angelo of Hamilton last night was found not guilty of three charges of manslaughter, but guilty of a fourth charge by a jury at the Fall assizes. A recommendation for mercy was attached to the verdict of guilty by the jury, which deliberated two hours and forty minutes. Sentence was deferred and may be passed on Saturday when d'Angelo probably will appear to answer another indictment against him. It was of administering poison to Patrick Lyons of Oakville, Ontario.

D'Angelo was the first man to be tried of the many arrested in the district in connection with the wave of alcohol poisoning deaths which swept part of Ontario last July.

Ottawa Redeems Groups of Notes

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance, yesterday announced that two-year four per cent. notes amounting to $8,000,000 dated November 1, 1924, were redeemed in cash on November 15 last. He further stated indebtedness which matured October 1 last and amounted to $35,000,000, had been redeemed in cash out of current revenues. By the use of current revenues for this purpose, he said, Canada had saved $1,720,000 in annual interest charges.

GOODWIN INNOCENT SAYS NOTE TELLING OF MOTOR ACCIDENT

Long Beach, Cal., Nov. 19.—The Long Beach Press-Telegram to-day publishes a letter written by J. MacKelbride, the KKK's "Grand Dragon" of the Long Beach chapter, to a Catholic priest under sentence of death for the murder of John J. Patterson, Los Angeles broker, near Santa Ana, purporting to absolve the former priest from any connection whatever with the slaying.

MacKelbride declared Patterson's death was the result of an automobile accident. He said that his body, which was found last March in a canyon north of Santa Ana, was partly burned during an attempt by Albert Dewey Green, a friend of Goodwin, to warm Patterson, in an effort to revive him.

DUEL IN BUDAPEST

Budapest, Nov. 19.—A sword duel which left the principals unscathed, was fought yesterday between Count Paul Teleky, former Premier of Hungary, and Count Emerich Karolyi, cousin of Count Michael Karolyi, former provisional President. Count Teleky received a slight cut on the right hand. The duel followed a remark made by Count Karolyi to the effect that he wondered how Count Teleky could sleep so soundly under the responsibility of having sent Prince Ludwig Windisch-Graetz and Dr. von Nadasdy, Budapest police chief, prisoner as conspirators in the great frame counterfeiting plot early this year.

"Bootlegger Queen" Escapes After Her Arrest in Miami

Miami, Fla., Nov. 19.—Ruth Adele Smith, known in San Francisco as the "bootlegger queen" of the Pacific, disappeared here yesterday after posting a $5,000 bond following her capture in a chase by Government operatives which extended from California to Havana, Nassau, New York and finally to Miami.

Trained for more than two years, the pretty twenty-five-year-old "queen" was arrested in a downtown hotel on a fugitive from justice charge in connection with the alleged operation of a band of rum runners off the California coast.

She was said to have admitted to government agents that "I am the woman you want." Gaining her release, she left in an automobile. She is said to have checked out of her hotel.

Many Hooligans Exiled by Soviet

Moscow, Nov. 19.—Hooligans, a name applied by Russians to all persons guilty of assault, theft and minor crimes, have become so numerous throughout Russia that the Government has resorted to a system of exile to get rid of them. One hundred and seventy-five have been exiled.

OUR BIRTHDAY

WHETHER THIS DAY IS THE ACTUAL birthday of British Columbia, or whether the anniversary of its foundation should be celebrated on March 11, there can be no difference of opinion over the propriety of honoring the memory of Sir James Douglas, from whom Douglas Day takes its name. History already has given a prominent place to this great Empire builder, and we can not recall too often the splendid achievements which marked his record of service and determined the character and destiny of this Province.

The best tribute we can pay to Sir James Douglas and the other sturdy pioneers is to develop a worthy structure on the foundations they laid so well. Fifty-five years ago the population of this Province was only just a little more than 36,000; to-day it is more than 600,000. Here is obvious progress; but it is really only a beginning of that development which Sir James visualized for this part of Canada. Much has changed in the intervening years. Forests have made room for cities. The march of civilization has left its impress in various other forms. Advantages almost undreamed of sixty years ago have simplified the tasks of the present generation. Thus only by our industry and faith can we fully honor these anniversaries.

At no time in its colorful history has the future appeared so bright for British Columbia as it does now. Its people have begun to realize how munificent Nature has been to them, what its geographical position ought to mean to its trade and commerce. They have a right to their optimism; but nothing permanent can be accomplished without the labor, sacrifices and vision shown by our pioneers. As this anniversary comes round, therefore, there should be a re-dedication to service by the people of this Province. That would be a complete Douglas Day celebration.

WHITHER ARE THEY DRIFTING?

ALTHOUGH IT WAS GENERALLY ASSUMED a day or so ago that the striking coal miners in Great Britain would vote in favor of accepting the terms of settlement proposed by the Government last week, the ballot taken in the various districts reveals a substantial majority in favor of rejecting them. This does not necessarily mean that the end of the dispute is as far off as ever it was. More than 300,000 men already have returned to the pits; but it continues to postpone the revival of industry.

How the miners expect to improve their position by resisting practically every attempt at settlement is far from clear. Their case from moral and material standpoints must grow weaker with every day's idleness. The public is thoroughly impatient with the continual rationing of coal and its high cost. Such sympathy as they manifested with the men's cause at the outset already has evaporated. The miners are losing their wages and jeopardizing their future livelihood. The funds at the disposal of the Federation to which they belong have practically vanished and the financial condition of all the other unions is about as precarious as it could be.

While the official verdict opposes the terms of settlement proposed by the Government—and the majority recorded was more than 147,000—many men are going back to work every day. These are the wise men of the dispute. They know that a large number of the Federation's membership will have to look for a new calling after the strike is over, so they have made sure of their own jobs in the meantime. The course of events during the next few days will be watched with interest if only for the reason that the continued deadlock is affecting the trade and commerce of the whole world.

YOUNG CANADIAN BUILDERS

HOW THE BOYS AND GIRLS OF CANADA are helping to improve the quality of hogs marketed in Western Canada is the subject of a recent article explaining the operations of boys' and girls' swine clubs. The promotion and organization of these useful bodies of young Canadians is accomplished by the extension service of the provincial Department of Agriculture in the various provinces.

Every club annually holds a competition and the two highest scoring members are eligible to compete at the inter-club competition held at a central provincial point. At each club competition, for instance, the Canadian National Railway offers as a prize a free trip over its lines, from the local point to the place where the inter-club competition is held, to the two highest scoring members.

At a provincial central point an inter-club competition is held. To the team scoring the highest number of points in each provincial competition, the railway offers as a prize a trip to the Toronto Royal Show as its guests. At Toronto the provincial winners compete in a swine judging and demonstration competition. The team scoring highest in this competition receives the custody for one year of a splendid trophy presented by the vice-president of the railway, and every contestant receives a suitably engraved gold medal.

These trip prizes very naturally are a means of stimulating competition among club members, and the educational value derived by winners is such that when the teams return the whole of their respective clubs benefit from the experiences encountered by the traveling members. Any farm boy or girl between the age of twelve and twenty-one is eligible for club membership.

To the benefit derived from these activities by the boys and girls themselves must be added the benefit which the country gets from the application of this branch of farm knowledge by its youth. It makes for greater agricultural development, more farms, and that means more factories.

CHANGING HER METHODS

WHAT THE MANUFACTURER IN Great Britain can do when he sets about anything with a will is illustrated by the fact that one automobile concern showed a $500 car at the recent Motor Show and in three days took orders for just under 30,000 cars at a total value of $15,000,000.

The Old Country manufacturer may take a fairly long time to consider the advisability of striking out on a new course. He is naturally conservative and does not take kindly to innovations until he has thoroughly satisfied himself of their worth; but when he has been convinced that there is a market for a particular article, he will turn it out in large quantities and in good quality. The car in question obviously is priced so that the average man can buy it, and it is certain that it will be the best one of its kind that can be produced at the low figure mentioned. There is on this Continent one striking example of the success of the principle of giving the average man his motor car at a popular price.

Great Britain's industrialists are alive to the necessity of changing many methods of production, and if little is read or heard about it there is reason to believe that radical reorganizations in many great plants are being undertaken. Experts already have visited the United States during the last year or so to find out such secrets of that country's industrial success as may be found out. Most of the useful information obtained in this way will be used. If Britain is slow, she is also sure when she strikes her gait.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

MR. FERGUSON'S CONFESSION

From The Toronto Star

Speaking at Orono Mr. Ferguson said: "I for my part refuse to be a hypocrite any longer. That is more than an assertion. It is a confession. It is a confession that those honeyed promises of his, those professions of loyalty to the O.T.A., those gestures of friendship to prohibitionists were just gestures; or, to use his own word—just hypocrisy."

Queer Quirks of Nature

By ARTHUR N. PACK

This one, children, will not be found in the catalog if you look for "snookum bears." However, a smart dealer, knowing the value of an easy name to remember, calls the Coati Mundis by that name, which may be just as well.

Running in bands these animals are found in Mexico and South America. They have an odd shaped rubbery nose that can be worked into so many odd shapes and so rapidly you are forced to laugh. They are about the size of racoons with ringed tails that are quite long. Their black feet have bear-like claws. Their ears are short and round.

As to food, anything sweet in the fruit line is relished by Coati Mundis; even custard pie goes down with a rush. Prunes also make a great hit with this animal.

When it comes to identification the Coati is an American plantigrade carnivorous quadruped. Rather hard to get all that down, so let us stick to "snookum bears."

Preserving Paintings

London—Why do modern oil paintings suffer a lowering in tone while those of the Old Masters preserve theirs indefinitely?

This interesting question has been investigated by a special committee of the Royal Academy, London, and Dr. A. P. Laurie, one of its members, who is professor of chemistry to the Academy, has recently given the answer in a paper read before the Royal Society. To understand this answer it is necessary to know that "refractive index" is the amount of bending a ray of light undergoes as it passes from one medium to another of different density; and the greater the difference in refractive index between two media, the greater is the amount of light reflected from the surface between them.

Professor Laurie's experiments show that the lowering in tone of oil pictures is due not only to the natural yellowing of the linseed, walnut or poppy oil employed, but to the fact that its refractive index increases as it gets older. The refractive index of linseed oil rises very rapidly as the oil is drying, and thereafter much more slowly, but persistently. A comparatively small increase in the refractive index of the oil causes a perceptible degradation of tone in white lead, and makes a pale cadmium yellow appear dull and more orange in tint.

Now the Van Eyckes and other famous painters of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries were ignorant of the science of light, and yet their method of painting—handed down from earlier times—obviated the dangers due to discoloration. In those days it was the practice, beginning with the white gesso panel, to lay in black and white, and even color, in a low refractive medium like egg or size, and to glaze thinly with oil pigments over this under-painting. Under these conditions the increase in refractive index of the oil on ageing corrected the lowering of tone due to its yellowing, because more light was reflected from the bright surface below.

"If modern painters," says Professor Laurie, "desire their pictures to be as durable as those of the Old Masters, they must take into consideration the changes which the oil undergoes, and modify their methods accordingly."

"WORK LIKE A TROJAN"

"WORK LIKE A TROJAN"

The residents of ancient Troy were famed for their sternness of purpose and for their tireless, persevering methods of attaining their desired ends. Their method of training their men-children was so severe that it made either slaves or warriors of them. And so, to-day, when we wish to say that someone is working hard and strenuously, we say that he "works like a Trojan."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Daily Times, November 19, 1901

According to a report reaching the city to-day, the tug Hope, while towing a large boom to Everett during the heavy gale last week lost half of her bow. She was unable to recover it.

To superintend the construction of wharves and structures at Nanaimo, A. Lockwood of the Pacific Cable Company, arrived in the city to-day.

At the City Council meeting last night the aldermen refused to reconsider tenders for the construction of Point Ellice Bridge.

VIOLIN COMPETITION

To the Editor.—Local violin teachers have expressed keen disappointment in the violin competitions to be held during the forthcoming local musical festival, whereby the advanced or brilliant violin students of the city are prevented from showing their prowess.

Might it not be well in future to select test pieces from the admirably graded syllabus of the London Royal Academy or any Canadian institution of good standing, instead of allowing a local individual, herself a teacher of music, to select them? The Beethoven Rondo test piece for the most advanced students, consists of a few simple notes, reaching no higher than the first position, repeated over and over again in the form of a rondo. The Bocherini Gavotte, as a test piece for the youngest students of all, can in no sense be played correctly as a violin solo; it is an ensemble number requiring highly finished players.

To ensure fair play in the forthcoming festival might it not be well that the adjudicators are not connected either with a teaching profession or any local musical society?

BRITISH PRESS PRAISES
"EVERY MOTHER'S SON"
AS FAMOUS PICTURE

One of the greatest box office attractions ever made in England is now showing at the Dominion Theatre. "Every Mother's Son" may be aptly described as a British "Big Parade" or even more fittingly might it be termed a "glorious tribute to Britain's Unknown Warrior," done in England by a cast of English men and women, in a spirit of loving pride and patriotism.

The following are excerpts from press notices written after a preview of the production in London: "One of the most dramatic and

MARY PICKFORD IN SEVERAL FINE ROLES
ON PLAYHOUSE SCREEN

"Through the Back Door," Mary Pickford's fourth United Artists production, at the Playhouse this week, gives admirers of this winsome and wholly refreshing little star an opportunity to view her work from many interesting angles.

HEART INTEREST
ABOUNDS IN CLEVER
PLAY AT COLISEUM

The belief of a woman in a young man against whom evidence seems strong is vindicated in that excellent show "In Walked Jimmy" at the Coliseum. "Jimmy" is thought to have robbed a bank but instead he builds a business on the ruins of an old man's crippled fortunes. A play of heart interest, love and the religion of life, it is nevertheless a fine comedy and the audience finds this week's entertainment acceptable right through. The vaudeville numbers between acts—complete an acceptable evening's entertainment.

IMPORTANT HOLIDAY

During the making of "Battling Butler," Buster Keaton's new comedy, now running at the Capitol Theatre, the frozen-faced star de-layed a half-holiday, hurried home from the studio early in the afternoon and helped celebrate an event more important to him than picture production.

It was Bob Talmadge Keaton's second birthday anniversary, and the frozen-faced comedian and Natalie Talmadge Keaton entertained at a party for their young hopeful. Joe Talmadge Keaton assisted Brother Bob in receiving the guests, who included "Aunt Norma" Talmadge, "Aunt Constance" Talmadge, Uncle Joe Schenck, "Grandma" Talmadge, and others.

Birthday presents ranging from shaving mugs and tricycles to puppets and all-day suckers were received by Bob.

MISS CHADWICK IS OVERJOYED TO RIDE
FAMOUS FILM HORSE

Helene Chadwick, one of the most attractive girls in the moving picture colony, realized a live-long ambition when she was selected by Fox Film's officials to play opposite Tom Mix in "Hard Boiled," screen version of Shannon Rice's gripping story of the great open spaces, now at the Columbia Theatre.

"I think I must have dreamed about the matter all my life," Miss Chadwick told Mr. Mix, "but lately I have been thinking about it all the more intensely. I wondered if the day would ever come when I would ride the wonder horse."

The wonder horse, of course, is Tony—and Miss Chadwick's dream came true when Tom, rescuing the beautiful leading woman from a gang of New York crooks, seized her in his arms and carries her to safety astride the faithful Tony.

"I thought I had experienced all the thrills in picture-making," said Miss Chadwick, "but this was the greatest of all. Nothing I have ever done remotely approaches it."

CHINESE BUNGALOW REVEALS LANG AT PEAK OF HIS ART

Great English Actor Supreme in Role of Aristocratic Chinaman

Matheson Lang, great in "The Wandering Jew," is greater still in "The Chinese Bungalow," which commenced a three-day run at the Royal Victoria Theatre last night. He is greater because the role of Yuan Sing, the Chinaman, is more complex, more subtle and more difficult even than the part of Mathathias in the play produced here by the same company last week.

It is said Mr. Lang regards "The Chinese Bungalow" as his best play. This is not difficult to believe for it is doubtful that the Canadian stage has ever seen a finer characterization than that of Yuan Sing, in the sheer perfection of Mr. Lang's art. It would be hard, indeed, to recall many performances which could be compared with it.

While the play, of course, centres entirely around the polished Chinese aristocrat as portrayed by Mr. Lang, its perfection is achieved by the work of a magnificent supporting cast and staging in which every detail shows the work of a master producer.

In "The Chinese Bungalow" Mr. Lang and his company create a subtle, suggestive, but atmospheric of Malay, where four Europeans are drawn irresistibly into the weird life of a rich Chinaman, cultured in the arts of the Occident, perfectly educated in English, but beneath his emaculate western garb a Chinaman to the core. This extraordinary man, Yuan Sing, has married an English girl, who with her sister is living in his bungalow in the wilds of Malaya, far from any other habitation.

The action of the play centres around Yuan Sing's discovery that his young English wife, "Cherry Blossom," is false to him, his diabolical revenge on her lover and then his decision to marry her sister. In this scheme Mr. Sing comes into conflict with a young Englishman, "Fate," who is no ordinary foe. How Mr. Sing contrives to arrange a battle in which there is no violence but which, in the end, must kill one of the other participants, is the staggering denouement of the story. And in the end who wins? "Fate," I think, answers Mr. Sing quietly, in that cultured but Chinese voice of his, as he calmly prepares for Fate's final verdict against him.

A GREAT ROLE

It is impossible to picture in words Mr. Lang's interpretations of his role. Not only in appearance is he Chinese—it is difficult, in fact, to believe that he is anything else as he appears upon the stage—but the delineation goes much deeper. He holds the mirror up to the strange soul of the Chinaman, playing its ideals, its strength, its weaknesses, its love and its hate, against the simpler, rugged characters of his English women. And it is all done in a quiet monotone, with scarcely a gesture, and with a fixed, stolid expression worn like a mask from beginning to end. Only once do the fires burning in the Chinaman's heart flare up to the surface, and then only for a second; but in that brief flash the whole tragedy of Yuan Sing, the Oriental who has tried in vain to mould the western mind to his own teachings, is revealed.

"I am very tired," says Yuan Sing as he finds his little world tottering about him, but in those four words Mr. Lang has compressed a life time of misery.

Mr. Lang not only has given the stage a triumph of interpretive art in his own work, but he has lavished his genius on every detail of the production. The scenery, designed by him, takes the audience instantly into the heart of the Malay jungle where Yuan Sing has built his Chinese bungalow, his "poor house," in an atmosphere of Oriental luxury he has imprisoned "his womenkind." All other details contribute to his impressive picture.

With equal care he has cast the other characters, all of them played by artists of first rank. Charlotte Merivale, sister of Yuan's young wife—his Heart of Jade, he calls her—is admirably played by Miss Winifred Izard, on whose clean young British life wild passions of the Oriental are superimposed. Sing's wife, as played by Miss May Ward, is a splendid characterization, too. Upon Richard Marquess (Shayle Gardner) falls a large part of the powerful scenes which culminate in the magnificent defeat of Mr. Sing. Mr. Gardner's work as the young Englishman, caught in the grip of the Chinaman's subtleties, is superb.

Even in the minor characters the acting is of the first order. The two Malay servants (Vera Hurst and Arnold Rocks), and Harold Marquess, the first victim of Mr. Sing's plot, are all excellently played. Almost next to Mr. Sing, perhaps, the audience was struck most by the characterization of Mr. Sing's two Chinese servants—solemn, silent-moving men, who hovered between them perhaps a dozen words and yet impressed themselves upon one's mind nearly as distinctly as Mr. Sing himself.

"The Chinese Bungalow" will be repeated to-night and to-morrow with a Saturday afternoon matinee.

BILLIE DOVE

BY DAN THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 17.—She couldn't swim. She couldn't ride. In fact, she couldn't do any of the things ordinarily considered essential accomplishments for screen players.

But Billie Dove had nerve and plenty of it. So she stepped out and got a job in a water picture the very first thing. Some of the scenes called for her to swim. There was nothing else to do. She either had to swim or lose her job—so she swam.

"My second picture was one of Zane Grey's western stories," says Billie. "I didn't dare tell them I couldn't ride because I wanted to be in pictures so badly and I knew they wouldn't even give me a chance if I revealed my few ailments."

"At first I fell off my horse quite frequently, but I finally learned to stick in the saddle. We were on location most of the time in this picture and I used to ride to and from the set. Think of it, in two pictures I learned to swim and ride right before the camera—and was paid for it."

Miss Dove had always had a desire to take up various sports but had just never found time. Since entering pictures four years ago she has not only learned to swim and ride but to play golf, tennis and polo as well.

NEW PICTURE
Billie reached the height of her career as Douglas Fairbanks' leading lady in "The Black Pirate." She was beautiful in that film—the main requisite for any of Doug's leading women, as he always does most of the acting himself. But there were spots where she carried out her bits remarkably well.

But Billie is tired of the free-lancing life. They make one grow old too fast. So she recently signed a long-term contract with First National. Her first picture under the new banner will be "Here Y' Are Brother," directed by Balboni.

WHERE WOUNDED WORK

SEVENTEEN MEN WERE KILLED IN DOCK DISASTER

INJURED REMOVED

All efforts were made toward getting the injured out of the danger zone and while the fire was at its height no attempt had been made to check the identities of the dead men or missing.

Captain Danielsen was reported to have escaped unhurt. How many of the crew were included among the dead or injured could not be determined.

Startled workmen in other parts of the shipyard dropped their tools and silence reigned for a moment after the roar of the explosion.

AID QUICKLY GIVEN

Then screams arose from the interior of the blazing ship and dock hands plunged through the flames and smoke to give aid. One side of the ship was blown out.

Hurried calls sent fire department equipment and fire boats dashing from Baltimore and ambulances, physicians and nurses were hurried to hospitals.

The Mantilla is 407 feet long, with a 52-foot beam and has a gross tonnage of 5,670.

Only twenty-five of 250 doctors attending a convention of the British Medical Association were clean shaven.

knowledge or suggestion that nothing would be done. His remark was elicited by Mr. Smith's protest against the heavy fines. Magistrate Alexander replied that people had gone to the roadhouse brazenly, and he had to consider the effect on the general public. When people violated the law that way he did not see why they should get off with minimum fines. He said there had been an absolute defiance of the law.

DELAYS NOT WANTED

Both Mr. Farris and the magistrate made it clear they would not countenance delay in the hearing of the charges, and when William Hays, from the Narrows Roadhouse, charged with selling liquor, sought an adjournment on the ground that his counsel, Gordon Wisner, was ill, the magistrate, at the request of the prosecutor, stood the case down on the list, but would not grant a remand. In the meantime accused from the Narrows were ordered to remain in the courtroom.

BURNING OF VESSEL TOOK THREE LIVES

THREE MISSING
Quebec, Nov. 19.—This afternoon it was reported unofficially that with the exception of three deckhands,

Scott & Bowne, Toronto, Ont. 26-25

everyone on board the ill-fated steamer Montreal, burned last night in the St. Lawrence River near Sorel, had been accounted for. Fears for the safety of the lives, however, were expressed by the steamship company officials, though they were not prepared to admit the men had been lost.

The names of the deckhands were not known at the local office of the Canada Steamship Company.

While the fire was raging the ship was beached and the flames then burned the vessel to the water's edge.

FORTY ON BOARD

More than forty men, the crew, were on board when disaster overtook the ship. All except the three mentioned are known to have made a hasty escape either by boat or by jumping into the river and swimming ashore. A number were slightly burned in making their escape, and three had to be taken to the hospital in Sorel. They are Montreal men, Louis Ringuette, Lucien Thiercy and Albert Paquette. They saved their lives by jumping into the river when the ship was 100 feet from shore while tongues of flame burned the clothing on their backs.

The fire broke out before midnight while the vessel was en route from Montreal to Quebec on a freight carrying trip, her passenger season in the service of her owners, the Canada Steamship Lines, having been completed fifteen days ago.

The fire started in a forward hold where cattle and horses were quartered, presumably from a lighted match falling into a pile of hay.

BAGS WITH LIQUOR AID TO SMUGGLERS

transferred to the bag, which was usually a flour or a sugar bag, and the goods smuggled across the line.

E. W. Cowan, chief of the narcotic division of the Department of Health, the first witness before the commission this morning, explained licenses must be obtained for the importation of narcotic drugs into Canada as well as for exportation of such drugs from Canada. There was not much trouble with the regular licensed dealers, but narcotic drugs passed between the United States and Canada by "underground routes." Narcotic drugs, he said, were shipped into Canada through United States ports, and in the same way, narcotic drugs destined for the United States came into Canadian ports.

TREATY IS GREAT AID

He said the narcotic clauses in the anti-smuggling treaty between Canada and the United States were of great benefit. They provided for an exchange of information about narcotic smugglers between the United States and Canadian authorities and the interchange of fingerprints, and in this way many offenders were caught.

"We have been able to round up hundreds of the larger dealers," Mr. Cowan said.

MANY DEPORTED

The method in Canada, he said, was to deport these smugglers after they had served their prison terms if they were not Canadians, and in this way more than 400 have been got rid of in the last few years.

Ninety per cent. of narcotic drugs coming into Canada were "camouflaged," the witness said. Sometimes shippers "led to be followed all round the world before a seizure was made. He told of one seizure made by Canadian authorities which totaled 15,000 ounces, worth at legitimate prices $10 an ounce. Illicitly sold, these drugs would bring anywhere from $50 to $150 an ounce.

Mr. Cowan said seventy-five per cent. of narcotic drug importations came into Canada through Montreal. A little came in through Quebec and St. John, N.B., and opium for smoking came in through Vancouver and Victoria.

A GLIMPSE OF BARKERVILLE IN ITS VERY EARLY DAYS

BARKERVILLE was the metropolis of the halcyon days of the Cariboo. There, with careless insouciance, the lucky miners came to gamble and frolic, and there the unlucky ones came for credit and supplies to carry on their prospecting. There, also, the express company received and credited gold to its holders, as well as shipping the precious metal to the coast and arranging for the sending in of necessary supplies. Much of the old place still is in evidence, though the gravel has engulfed a portion.

Today, residents of this historic old town, now sadly depleted in population, enjoy the same delicious 4X Bakery Products preferred in 50,000 B. C. homes. Shelly's serve every corner of good old B. C.

JEFFERSON BRINGS LAST SHIPMENT OF TEA FROM SHIMIDZU

Admiral Oriental Liner Docked
This Morning From Orient
After Good Trip

Brought 3,050 Bales of Raw Silk; 350 Tons of Cargo Discharged at Victoria

Bringing the last tea shipment of the season from Shim-idzu, Japan, the Admiral-Oriental Line steamship President
Jefferson, Capt. Francis R.
Nichols, arrived at Pier 2 this morning at 7.45 o'clock.

Capt. Nichols reported a good voyage with moderate weather from the time the vessel left Yokohama until Cape Flattery was in sight.

The Jefferson carried a light list of passengers, there being 164 in all classes, including twenty-eight first class and 136 in the steerage. Fourteen steerage passengers disembarked here.

Included in the vessel's cargo was a shipment of 3,050 bales of raw silk.
The consignment of Japanese tea amounted to 160 tons. The Jefferson brought 3,100 tons of general cargo, of which 350 tons were discharged at this port. Among the local freight was a shipment of walnuts from China.

Victoria's mail amounted to forty bags while for Seattle the vessel had 2,773 bags.

Among the prominent passengers on board were: Alfred G. Denbigh, importer and exporter of Hokodate,
on a vacation accompanied by Mrs.

Denbigh, M. de Bussy, engineer from Holland, on a tour around the world;
Raymond H. Dooley of the S. F. Bowser Company, returning to the United States from a business trip; Col.
Carmel A. Thompson, returning from Manila after an investigation of the Philippine independence question for President Calvin O. Coolidge, accompanied by Mrs. Thompson; James L.
E. Jappe, secretary to Col. Thompson; Miss Grace M. Jones, stenographer to Col. Thompson; Russell B. Porter, correspondent of The New York Times; J. H. Vogel, Seattle architect, returning from a business trip; Mrs.
W. P. Crismond, wife of a British-American Tobacco Company representative, en route to the United States to visit her family; Mrs.
Grace J. Terry of Shanghai, on her way to visit relatives in the U.S., accompanied by her daughter; Mrs. T.
G. McMartin, wife of a prominent Shanghai dentist, on a visit to the U.S.; Mrs. W. H. Tipton, whose husband is in charge of the Baptist Foreign Mission, and W. Lynch, formerly a representative of the British-American Tobacco Company in China, returning to the United States.

The Jefferson sailed at 10 o'clock for Seattle.

Raging Gale Sweeps Over Lake Superior

Port William, Nov. 19.—One of the worst gales of the Great Lakes navigation season was raging over Lake Superior yesterday. The wind, which reached fifty miles an hour and accompanied by a blinding snowstorm, tied up all shipping.

Buffeted by mountainous waves, several vessels were reported to be pounding their way to shelter, while those that have already reached port bore the evidence of a desperate battle with the storm.

The Norwegian steamer August arrived at Ogden Point this morning to commence loading 550,000 feet of lumber consigned to the Atlantic seaboard and British West Indies ports.

LONDON MARU AND GRANT BRINGING JAPANESE ORANGES

Two Vessels Will Discharge
Total of 133,000 Bundles
Here at End of Month

Japanese oranges for the Christmas festivities will arrive here
aboard two liners, the Admiral-Oriental Line steamship President
Grant and the Osaka Shosen Kaisha motorship London Maru.

These vessels will bring a total of 133,000 bundles of oranges. The Grant will have aboard 83,000 bundles while the London will bring 50,000 bundles.

The President Grant is due to arrive here on December 2, while the Japanese steamer will reach port the day before.

This will be the first time the London Maru has berthed at Victoria since her maiden voyage to the Pacific Coast from the Orient. The London, along with the Pacific Maru, operates out of Vancouver to the Far East.

It is rumored that the President
Grant may dock at the Ogden Point Piers to discharge her cargo of oranges but nothing definite has been arranged.

The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia is due to arrive here on November 23, and she will, also have a large cargo of "Japs" but these will all be unloaded at Vancouver.

Matching belts and hat-bands, particularly in high colors such as Valencia blue or crimson are very much liked with plain colored kasha or jersey sport dresses.

WRIGLEY NOT SO CRAZY WHEN HE PAID $3,000,000 FOR CATALINA ISLAND

Avalon, Catalina Island.—Seven years ago Catalina Island was but a huge plot of land, one of the most beautiful spots in the Pacific, about twenty-five miles off the coast of Southern California. A few scattered homes, cottages and hotels housed its inhabitants during the resort season.

Then William Wrigley, Jr. Chicago gum king, bought the island
from the Banning brothers for $3-000,000. His friends called him crazy, and intimated that a man of no better business judgment should have his head examined.

To-day, Catalina Island could not be purchased for $50,000,000. It shows promise of becoming one of the richest mining districts in the United States. Deposits found, to date include gold, silver, lead zinc, iron, copper and various rocks from which chemicals and paints are made.

MILL ACTIVITY

At present, one mill with a 125-ton per day capacity is operating full blast. Another, and still larger, mill is rapidly nearing completion.
Wrigley has his own steamship line to tow the ore-laden barges to the mainland.

But the mining activities are only a small part of the developments brought by Wrigley. Five steamers transport tourists to and from the mainland and carry them on sightseeing trips near the island.

Avalon has grown, until now thirty distinct types of business are in

A view of Catalina Island. Tourists and industrial development in the last few years have made it a gold mine for its owner, William Wrigley, Jr.

operation. Hotels, water, gas and electric plants, poultry ranches, fruit and vegetable farms, theatres, dance halls, garages, real estate offices and several small manufacturing plants are included among the industries.

The first year Wrigley owned Catalina, it was visited by approximately 50,000 tourists. Last year more than 400,000 persons landed in Avalon. Many remained only a day or two. Others spent a week on this gorgeous playground while still

CUBS CAMP

The island is the Spring training camp for Wrigley's Chicago Cubs.
The ball players spend about six weeks every Spring at this million-dollar camp. Not another club in the major leagues enjoys the training facilities afforded by Catalina Island.

The palatial St. Catherine hotel houses the players. Between practice periods they may be seen on the golf links, decked out in the latest sailing garb and heading for a pier or on fishing parties aboard Wrigley's private yacht, which is given over to their exclusive use.

In another three years, according to real estate experts, the value of Catalina Island should increase to $100,000,000—and they called Wrigley crazy when he paid $3,000,000 for it!

Judgment has been reserved by His Honor Judge Lammiman in the County Court action of T.B. Monk and Company, real estate agents, 1236 Broad Street, vs. Agnes Wood, widow, Gordon Hear. The real estate company sued for $143 on account of commission and incidental expenses.

On Wednesday the Victoria Boys' Orchestra held a very successful social at the Elks' Club rooms. There were about eighty-five people present. After a short entertainment and a few games, refreshments were served and a dance brought a very enjoyable evening to a close.

In the action Arthur White vs. A. B. Simpson and Margaret Simpson, a claim for $102.50 damages following an accident on Fernwood in which Mr. White was knocked down by a car driven by Mrs. Simpson on Fernwood Road, His Honor Judge Lammiman has reserved his decision.

Aunt Babs, the children's friend of radio station C.P.C.T., will introduce the kiddies to a new story this evening when she gives her weekly tale from the station. This will about a little dog named "Tinky," written specially for C.P.C.T. children by Mrs. Cuppage of Vancouver. The story will commence at 7.30 o'clock.

The Saanich Police Commission last night by a majority vote asked the municipal council to take a referendum on proposal to transfer police supervision to the Provincial Police. At the suggestion of Councillor Crouch, later in the evening, the request was laid over until next meeting, in view of the absence of Councillor Graham last night.

Peeling a handful of bills from a roll of currency, Peter O'Reilly clinched possession of a Saanich realty bargain at last night's session of the municipal council. For $100 cash title was transferred to a fine lot on Kenneth Street in Ward Four, nearby lots being listed at $150 by the council. Mr. O'Reilly had an indirect interest in the property prior to its reversion, but lacked legal status at the Land Registry Office.

Widening of Marchant Road from thirty feet to fifty feet, through the generosity of J. W. Sluggert, is practical in the near future, according to a statement made by the Saanich Council last night by Councillor Hagan of Ward Six. The council accorded approval of this betterment being gazetted. The road is a part of a waterfront drive around Saanich Inlet rivaling in scenic value the Malahat Drive and the popular East Saanich Road.

"I cannot recall any application in the last three months for aid from any able-bodied man," stated Clerk Sewell last night when the Saanich Council had before it a recommendation from the Central Council of Social Agencies that free groceries should only be given upon receipt of a letter of a labor task sufficient to pay the cost of groceries provided. The league will be informed that Saanich is not now giving aid to able-bodied men.

Sewer connection agreements with Victoria and Oak Bay, permitting the use of the Northeast and Northwest sewers by Saanich residents, were advanced at last night's session of the Saanich Council. Criticism of the proposed agreement regarding the Northeast sewer was made, and this arrangement with Victoria and Oak Bay jointly was only approved with the proviso that it be amended to conform strictly with the agreement regarding the Northwest sewer.

Damages of $79.40 are sought by Robert Rogers, wood dealer, Douglas Street, from Austin Flinton, salesman, for repairs to his delivery truck and loss of use following a collision at the corner of Alpha and Douglas Streets on September 13 in an action proceeding before His Honor Judge Lammiman. Defendant counter claims for $186 for repairs to his car. F. G. Forbes appears for plaintiff and W. T. Straith for defendant. A. S. G. T. Straith presented a plan of the scene of the accident made at the time the wheels of the two cars were interlocked.

Assured by its solicitors that Victoria has at present an unassailable right to charge residents near Elk Lake with the privilege of taking water from the lake, the Saanich Council last night approved of copies of the solicitors' report being sent to residents concerned. Recently a deputation informed the council that many farmers have laid pipes into Elk Lake and pump irrigation water therefrom. City Engineer Commissioner Preston had rendered bills for $1 per month, some residents had paid, but others had refused.

"What Next?" Says John Allan as Hen Lays Queer Egg

"Well, what next?" said John Allan, retired Winnipeg pioneer and prairie grain man, at his Victoria home, 275 Walter Avenue, when one of his prize Leghorns, "Billy," after much cackling presented him with an egg the size of a turkey egg. Mrs. Allan was starting to make a cake and decided that the egg would fit in well. When she cracked the shell, however, she found that there was another egg inside. She tapped the inner shell and drew off the yolk. Then Mr. Allan brought the two shells, one inside the other, into town to substantiate his story. "This is the first time I've seen or heard of such an egg," Mr. Allan said. "Billy" has always been a normal bird up until now, but I must admit I've had my suspicions. I don't know whether this miraculous egg presages a cold winter or what. I think I'll have to consult an astrologer and find out."

Memory Honored To-day, Sir James Douglas

I. O. D. E. AND NATIVE SONS OBSERVE B.C.'S BIRTHDAY TO-DAY

Native Sons Distribute Sprigs of Fir to Citizens; Lady Douglas Chapter Ball at Empress Hotel To-night

Sprigs of Douglas fir worn by many citizens in their buttonholes to-day called attention to the significance of the day—the anniversary of the birthday of British Columbia.

The Native Sons of British Columbia, Post No. 1, were responsible for the adoption of the custom of wearing a sprig of fir on British Columbia's natal day, and they undertook its distribution among the general public to-day. Their action indicates that the controversy which is waging over the date of British Columbia's official birthday has not upset their belief in the propriety of celebrating the anniversary of November 19, 1858, the day on which the historic ceremony at Fort Langley enacted the birthday of British Columbia as a crown colony with Governor James Douglas at its head.

LADY DOUGLAS CHAPTER BALL
For a number of years, the Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., has made the observance of November 19 one of its first charges, thus living up to its motto to "Keep one hand on the traditions of the past and green the memory of our illustrious dead."

To-night at the Empress Hotel it will hold its annual anniversary ball in honor of the birthday of British Columbia, when members of the pioneer families in charge of the arrangements will make the city will join with equal enthusiasm in commemorating the historic anniversary. Mrs. R. B. McKim, regent of the Chapter, who as a pioneer woman has long been one of the leaders in the movement for the maintenance of the traditions so nobly upheld by the pioneers, is in charge of the arrangements for to-night's ball and card party. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss Mackenzie will be among the patrons of the affair.

PLAN TO OBSERVE HISTORIC EVENT

Anniversary of Capt. Cook's Arrival Will be Marked

Plans for a striking observance of the anniversary of Captain Cook's arrival on Vancouver Island were briefly outlined by Cecil French at the meeting of the tourist group of the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon. The Spanish Government may be asked to send a warship, he said. Invitations may be also extended to France and Portugal to be represented. Promises of assistance in providing boats to accommodate those joining in the celebrations had been received from the Canadian Pacific Railway, and an application would be made to the Federal Government to help financially. A grand cruise up the West Coast with commemorative exercises at Nootka is planned.

He was born in Scotland and came to Canada twenty-one years ago. He is survived by his widow here. The funeral will be held from the B.C. Funeral Chapel on Monday at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

The remains of the late Thomas Kitson of Oliver Street, were laid at rest in Royal Oak Burial Park this morning. Services were held at St. Barnabas Church at 10 o'clock. Rev. N. E. Smith officiating. The casket was covered with floral tributes. The pallbearers were Messrs. Ed. Williams, F. C. Trerise, A. E. Haynes and B. G. Robertson.

LUMBER WAGE STILL IN COURTS, MINERS NOW SEEKING HELP

Board Called to Decide on Enforcement of Forty-cent Ruling Pending Verdict

Will Meet Coal Miners in Nanaimo Sunday to Hear Requests for Intervention

What will be done about the official forty-cent-an-hour wage ruling in the lumber industry now that the B.C. Appeal Court has reserved judgment on the legality of this order, will be decided by the administrative board in charge of the minimum wage law at a meeting Sunday. An immediate decision on the enforcement of the order is necessary as the lumber industry is making ready now for its semi-monthly payroll, which will be distributed at the beginning of next week. If the board decides to go ahead with the enforcement of its order, pending the Appeal Court's ruling, it will insist that the current payroll be based on a forty-cent minimum. VERDICT IN JANUARY

The Appeal Court's verdict, reserved yesterday, is due to be handed down in Victoria in January. Meanwhile the administrative board has accepted an invitation to meet coal miners from all parts of the "Nanaimo" and surrounding districts on Sunday to hear representations on the minimum wage question.

What the miners want from the board is not known. Mining wages generally are higher than the forty-cent minimum fixed in the lumber industry and it had not been anticipated that miners would be affected by the new law. The Nanaimo meeting on Sunday will be attended by miners from the city itself and all the other coal districts around it.

OUTLINES PLAN TO DEVELOP ISLAND

J. A. Griffith Speaker at Tourist Group Luncheon Meeting

Proposals which he has frequently advocated for the development of Vancouver Island, were outlined by J. A. Griffith at a luncheon meeting of the tourist trade group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce this afternoon.

Outstanding among the proposals was railroad extension to the northern end of Vancouver Island, which was essential to the continued progress of Vancouver Island, he claimed.

A car ferry service between Patricia Bay and Vancouver and the development of Strathcona Park would work hand in hand with the line extension, he said. Members of the Provincial Government had said that if the C.P.R. could be induced to extend the line from Courtenay to the northern end of the island they believed the Government would build an automobile highway and maintain it from Campbell River to Butte Lake.

A steady stream of business would be opened up, coal lands and timber would be made accessible and Victoria would be brought in closer touch with Vancouver and Seattle. Mr. Griffith pictured some of the scenery on the island which would be brought closer to tourists and said if these spots were thrown open the total of visitors would be increased by thousands. Victoria, he said, was more beautifully located than any place on the Pacific Coast.

WILL OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY OF CONSECRATION

Anglican Young People's Rally to be Held at Memorial Hall November 30

A young people's rally is being arranged by the Anglican Young People's Association on Tuesday, November 30, beginning with supper at 6.15 p.m. in the Memorial Hall gymnasium. The proposed programme suggests a triple commemoration. The gathering will be held in honor of the Right Rev. C. D. Schofield, who on November 30 will observe the tenth anniversary of his consecration as Bishop of Columbia.

Another purpose in calling together young people from the Anglican churches in the district is to welcome an official of the Dominion Anglican Young People's Association, George W. Pither of Brantford, Ontario. The third object of the meeting is to emphasize the value of young people's co-operation in the work of the church, as evidenced by the great assistance given by groups of young people in many parishes in carrying out efforts for building a new cathedral for the diocese.

Details of the affair on November 30 will be arranged at a meeting in the Memorial Hall to-night of young people chosen to represent local Anglican churches in the district.

TOURIST TRADE MEN COURAGEOUSLY FACE BAFFLING PROBLEM

Members of the tourist trade group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce were presented with a big task to-day when a writer sought information on a burning subject which has disturbed his peace of mind. "I have a very serious question to ask you which has caused me great perturbation of mind for some considerable time," he wrote. "After looking at it from all angles, I feel the time has come when I must put the question before you as it has caused me many sleepless nights and days of worry. "You will understand my reluctance in writing you before, when I tell you that many a community and even whole lives have been wrecked by similar circumstances. You should know the worst, for it may mean future happiness for you and me. And, indeed, all citizens of Victoria and Vancouver Island. I dare not speak of this to anyone else as some are not to be relied upon. "There are days when in distress I appeal for a fair and open answer to my question, feeling sure you will do me the little favor asked. No doubt you will think it is asking a great deal of your action, but under the circumstances please forget conventions and petty thoughts and devote your attention to an unbiased consideration of this serious problem. "I hardly dare ask it of you for fear of others hearing of your embarrassment, but I feel that I can rely on your discretion out of the fullness of your hearts and your sincere interest in community activities. "I trust you will let me know your answer soon. "Do you think Jeff will ever be as tall as Mutt? "AN ADMIRER OF YOUR SECTION."

Boston Increases Lead When Detroit Blanked

Former Victoria Team Fails to Score Against Bruins, Who Shot Two Goals in First Four Minutes on Stuart, Who Substituted in Goal for Holmes; Lalonde's Americans Beaten in New York by Montreal and Paper Pans Them; Ottawa Win Their Opening Game From Canadiens

New York, Nov. 19.—Montreal Maroons and the Boston Bruins scored shutout victories in their National Hockey League games played in the United States last night. The world champion Maroons got revenge for their defeat by the New York Rangers on Tuesday night by beating the New York Americans, the other hockey tenants of Madison Square Garden, by a 2-0 score, while Boston took an early season lead in the second division of the league by beating the Detroit Cougars 2-0.

"Punch" Broadbent scored the goals which gave the Maroons their two points in the first period. His first score was made nine minutes and seven seconds after starting. Broadbent won the game by a rebound off Forbes' pads of a tricky shot from Stewart. Forbes blocked Stewart's shot, but the puck rebounded twenty feet.

Six minutes later, Broadbent went through the entire American line-up, drew Forbes out of position and whipped the rubber into the net. Two more goals were scored by the Maroons, but Lou Marsh disallowed them as offside.

PANNING FOR TEAM

Commenting on the games, The New York Herald-Tribune says:

"The Maroons proved a far different proposition from the alphas, floundering aggregation seen on the soft ice Tuesday night when they lost to the Rangers by a score of 2-0. The visitors clearly deserved the victory, for they outplayed and out-generaled the Americans from start to finish."

"The work of Newey Lalonde's men showed the same painful lack of co-ordination as a year ago. There was no combination, save when the second line of attack was on the ice. The veterans were affected with the same old desire to play to the gallery, and as a result, no one was in his place when opportunities to score presented themselves."

The line-up:

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 19.—The Boston Bruins, with one victory already to their credit in the National Hockey League, last night rushed the Detroit Cougars off the ice in the first three minutes of play to win 2 to 0.

The game was played at the Windsor Arena, before a capacity crowd of 6,000 persons, ushering in the season for Detroit.

Both Boston goals were scored within three minutes of the start of the game on easy shots which slipped by Stuart, who substituted in goal for Harry Holmes, who was taken sick two hours before the game time.

Stewart, who played with Edmonton last year, gave one of his finest exhibitions in the nets for the Bruins. By virtue of their victory the Bruins went into first place in the league standing with two victories and no defeats.

Montreal, Nov. 19.—Ottawa Senators won their first start in the National Hockey League last night, defeating the Canadiens of Montreal 2-1. Hooley Smith got the Senators' first career in the opening period.

George Boucher scored the other in the final period and Leduc got Canadiens' tally a few minutes later.

Canada, French language paper, says:

"For a club that has not played this season, Ottawa gave a good display. The players were in good condition and their combination was perfect. It was the latter asset that gave them the victory. Canadiens' defeat can be summed up in a few words. They have not reached their level yet. The players lack cohesion and this is not surprising in view of the fact that the club has several new players this season."

The game was played before a crowd of 5,500 hockey fans who turned out, practically filling the Forum to welcome back the Winter sport of another season.

Ottawa's victory over the Canadiens, with their stonewall defence kept the game safe until they established a lead. Ottawa scores came in the first and final periods, and both were results of smart work.

PARLOR DOG SHOW WILL BE HELD IN WEILER BUILDING

Dogs entered in the parlor show, to be held by the Victoria City Kennel Club in the Weiler Building to-morrow evening, will be judged in the regular manner, relieving exhibitors of the necessity of holding their dogs while they are being judged, officials of the club announced yesterday.

Arrangements for the show have been completed and indications point to one of the most successful parlor shows ever held by the club. Numerous entries have been received and many more are expected before the judging commences at 8 o'clock. Entries will be taken at the show between 4:15 and 7:45 o'clock. No pedigree is needed to exhibit a dog.

Several handsome trophies will be awarded as prizes. In addition to the solid silver spoons, which will be won outright, there will be a number of other prizes. One of these, a handsome linen exhibition coat, will be awarded for the best terrier other than an Airedale, to be shown by a boy or girl under the age of sixteen years.

Mrs. G. O. Aisen, one of the finest judges on the Pacific Coast, will officiate. She owns a large boarding and condition kennel in Washington. Mrs. Aisen is judged at some of the big shows in Everett, Spokane and Vancouver.

Seven Hundred Fans Present When Ice Skating Commences

Splendid Crowd Attends Opening Night at Arena; Good Music

When Badmaster Jimmy Miller waved his baton for the opening bars of the first "band" at the Willows Arena last night, seven hundred skaters were on the ice ready to usher in the season. To-day a percentage of that same seven hundred are nursing aching ankles, after two and one-half hours of "tripping over the skater queen." Jimmy Miller's band played their first skate of the season.

Most of the skating which Victorians are able to do is done at the arena. It is only at a "blive moon," as the schoolboy says, that there is any natural ice skating available and when there is it hardly lasts for more than a day or two.

Skating in the centre of attraction throughout the winter as far as the skating fraternity is concerned. At times the ice last night was so crowded that the skaters moved along in a single mass, swaying in time to the tunes of the band. At others, when a few of the more leg-weary ones went off for a rest or out for refreshments, the remainder were able to get more breathing room and step out. There was always an average of four hundred on the ice, however.

Jimmy Miller's band performed to perfection and some of their numbers were encored. The music has a lot to do with the enjoyment of skating.

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 19.—The Boston Bruins, with one victory already to their credit in the National Hockey League, last night rushed the Detroit Cougars off the ice in the first three minutes of play to win 2 to 0.

The game was played at the Windsor Arena, before a capacity crowd of 6,000 persons, ushering in the season for Detroit.

Both Boston goals were scored within three minutes of the start of the game on easy shots which slipped by Stuart, who substituted in goal for Harry Holmes, who was taken sick two hours before the game time.

Stewart, who played with Edmonton last year, gave one of his finest exhibitions in the nets for the Bruins. By virtue of their victory the Bruins went into first place in the league standing with two victories and no defeats.

USE TARIFF MONEY TO PAY FARMERS, IS PROSPERITY PLAN

Agricultural Bill to go Before Congress, Aims to Aid
Growers

U.S. Manufacturing Industries Now Found to be Too Highly Stimulated

Washington, Nov. 18.—A farmer-made bill will be presented at the next session of Congress. It is designed to start Europe's idle machines and men working again, stimulate foreign demand for American farm products and help agriculture up nearer industry's protected level. Charles A. Ewing, of Decatur, a central Illinois farmer, is author of the measure, which proposes the issuance of certificates on exported farm products and a revision of tariffs on goods coming into this country. In the operation of thousands of acres of farm land in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Mississippi, Missouri, Tennessee and Texas he has a chance to get bedrock evidence on the agricultural situation, coming out with some definite conclusions, calling things by their right names, and boldly proposing definite Federal action which he thinks will correct agriculture's ills and effect a permanent cure.

The Ewing bill proposes that any persons who export agricultural products valued at $500 or more shall be entitled to receive from the United States Government at any port in this country a certificate for an amount equal to fifty cents a bushel on corn, wheat, oats, rye and barley, three cents a pound on cotton, six cents a pound on beef and pork, five cents a pound on mutton, and forty-five per cent ad valorem on articles or goods fabricated entirely from cotton or leather, from cattle, hogs and sheep, and all food or foodstuffs processed or manufactured wholly from the agricultural products included in the bill.

EXCHANGE OF GOODS ENCOURAGED

Under the terms of this measure agricultural products can be exchanged for any article or commodity not raised, produced, or manufactured in the United States by paying a duty on the imported goods as provided for in the Ewing bill. The certificates issued on the export goods will be negotiable and can be used at face value in payment of tariffs or duties on dutiable goods brought into this country. The holder of unredeemed certificates, which are six months old or more, is entitled to receive in cash from the United States treasury eighty per cent of the face value of the certificates, paid out of the money accumulating from tariffs or duties on imports into this country.

PROVISIONS OF EWING BILL

The proposed act also provides for a means of paying for the certificates of debentures by means of a division of the tariff laws, as follows:

All imports from a foreign country into the United States of corn, wheat, oats, rye and barley, shall be dutiable at the rate of fifty cents per bushel.

All imports of their products shall be dutiable at forty-five per cent ad valorem.

All imports of cotton into the United States shall be dutiable at 3 cents per pound.

All imports of goods manufactured wholly of cotton shall be dutiable at forty-five per cent ad valorem.

All imports into the United States of cattle, hogs or sheep shall be dutiable at forty-five per cent ad valorem.

All imports into the United States of beef, pork or mutton shall be dutiable at six cents per pound for beef, six cents per pound for pork, and five cents per pound for mutton.

All hides, leather goods, or food products made from beef, pork or mutton shall be dutiable at forty-five per cent ad valorem.

All imports into the United States now admitted free or dutiable at a less rate than ten per cent ad valorem shall hereafter be dutiable at a rate of 10 per cent ad valorem except as above specifically designated and specified, and where not in contravention with existing trade treaties of the United States of America with foreign countries.

PERMANENT CURE FOR FARM ILLS

Mr. Ewing says that sixty-two per cent of our imports to-day are coming into this country duty free and some of them are competing directly with products raised on the farm. In interpreting the bill, which was prepared by Charles C. Le Forger, a Decatur attorney, Mr. Ewing said: "This bill, if passed, would be in the nature of a permanent cure for agricultural ills, rather than a temporary relief. It would put farming somewhere near a parity with manufacturing."

"Any measure which affords a reasonably adequate remedy is going to require money and lots of it, and this measure provides a way for raising most of the funds needed. At the same time it gives a protection against imports now admitted duty free in direct or indirect competition with agricultural interests of this country. It does this without disturbing to any considerable degree the other revenues of the United States Government."

"This measure requires no additional governmental machinery, but is simple and direct, and when passed would work an almost immediate benefit on the object toward which it is directed."

PROVIDING TRADE STIMULUS

"It is designed to give a real stimulus to our trade with continental Europe, and does this without interfering with the tariff protection now accorded enterprises in this country."

It is further pointed out that the Ewing bill is possible for all products of American agriculture to be exchanged or sold for manufactured products of any foreign country. The bill provides for a method of issuing and handling the certificates, and keeping records on exports and imports.

In showing the unbalanced position of farmers compared to industries when it comes to tariff protection, Mr. Ewing said that in 1925 the average ad valorem duty on manufactured products imported into the United States was only twenty-eight per cent on farm products. The duty on manufactured products entering the United States last year amounted to $242,769,342, and agriculture was only $155,629,912. Agriculture would have to have fifty per cent more to give farmers tariff protection equal to that of industry, according to Mr. Ewing's figures.

UNIFORM DUTY

Unlike some other proposals, the Ewing bill is said to levy uniform duty on agricultural products, thus stabilizing production, while a higher tariff on any one product would encourage farmers to swing to that crop.

Mr. Ewing says that to-day Europe needs many things produced in this country, but hasn't the money with which to buy. He believes his proposal for products from this country with goods manufactured in European factories.

"This bill will provide an adequate outlet for America's agricultural surplus," he said, "and will have the effect of increasing home prices."

How do you eat wheat?

You must eat some wheat each day—it is your "staff of life"—but how do you eat it? It should be the whole wheat, not just the starch center of the wheat berry which we call "white flour." The mineral salts and vitamins so necessary to health and normal growth are in six outer coats of the wheat berry. They are all in SHREDDED WHEAT and in a digestible form. Each shred is baked crisp and brown. No one has ever been able to improve or even approach our shredding process for making the whole wheat grain palatable and digestible. Eat it with milk or as a hot porridge made by cooking the biscuits in water or milk. Great for youngsters when toasted and served with butter.

DEFORESTATION IS SUBJECT OF WARNING

World's Rapid Use of Timber
Debated by Empire Conference in London

London, Nov. 18.—The report of the forestry committee of the Imperial Conference, adopted at the twenty-first session of the conference yesterday, says a review of the forestry situation throughout the world leads to the conclusion the principal timber producing countries are approaching exhaustion.

"There is every likelihood," says the report, "that in less than thirty years a shortage of soft woods will be severely felt."

The report adds that in the United States the original forest area has been reduced to 463,000,000 acres, of which only 137,000,000 carry virgin timber.

"These last-mentioned areas," the report continues, "will be cleared at the rate of 5,500,000 acres annually, so that as in the case of Canada there appears to be only about twenty-five years' supply apart from the produce of second growth areas."

On the motion of Premier King, seconded by Premier Stanley M. Bruce, the conference passed resolutions of appreciation of the work of the Imperial Shipping Committee and the Imperial Economic Committee.

A resolution dealing with the economic committee approves its continuance on the present basis, with continuance of the committee's inquiries into the marketing of Empire foodstuffs in Great Britain.

Empire Conference Locarno Plan Does Not Bind Dominions

London, Nov. 18.—The report of the Premier's Committee of the Imperial Conference on the Locarno treaties will commend the work of Sir Austen Chamberlain in their negotiation, and recognize the part the treaty played in creating a new attitude in Europe, but will not express any opinion one way or the other on the acceptance of the treaties by the Dominions. The Premier's Committee yesterday, and they will be considered further before a final resolution is adopted, but the foregoing is now regarded as the most probable outcome. Under this plan the Dominions as a whole neither accept nor reject the treaties. It is left to any individual Dominion to assume the responsibility of the treaties if it wishes.

On the acceptance of the treaties the Dominions, according to an unofficial report, divided, Newfoundland and New Zealand in favor of acceptance, and Canada, South Africa and the Irish Free State against. Australia, apparently, favored acceptance, but did not wish to press the point.

This discussion has continued at intervals for several weeks. There were various resolutions proposed, one favoring, it is stated, the joint acceptance of the treaties by the Dominions. In view of the divided opinion, however, this was dropped, the two sides eventually agreeing on the middle course indicated, in the submission of which it is stated, the Canadian delegation played a prominent part.

In its constitutional deliberations generally, in fact, the Premier's Committee is following a middle course. By one close to the committee the result of its work was described as meeting the demands both of Empire unity and Dominion autonomy.

"The man who wants to stay in the Empire, yet who wants the Dominions to govern themselves, need have no fear of the outcome," it was stated. "The committee adopted no extreme view of either side, but gave satisfaction to both."

World Economic Conference Urged

Geneva, Nov. 18.—Convocation of an international economic conference on May 4, 1927, is recommended by the preparatory economic committee in its draft report to the League of Nations Council.

The report emphasizes that the conference would not be an isolated event, but another stage in the continuous work of international collaboration in the economic sphere.

All important states not members of the League should be invited to the conference as well as the League members, it recommends, each state to send a maximum of five delegates. Experts also might attend, but would not be entitled to speak or vote.

The broad lines of the programme suggested for the conference are as follows:

Freedom of commerce, Customs tariffs and commercial treaties, indirect methods of protecting national commerce and national shipping, the conditions of principal industries, their organization and production, the importance of collection and prompt exchange of statistical information concerning industrial production, the present position of agriculture, the cause of its present difficulties and the possibilities of international action.

Letter Story False

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Edward H. S. Martin, attorney for Kenneth G. Ormiston, missing radio operator of the Angelus Temple, Los Angeles, to-day made public a letter purporting to be from Ormiston, who branded as "bunk" the "Dear Darling Man" letter given out by District Attorney Asa Keyes in Los Angeles, and also the trunk of feminine finery found in New York.

Plea Made For Better Support of Art Gallery at Annual Meeting

T. S. Gore was elected president of the Island Arts and Crafts Society at the annual meeting of that organization held in the Art Gallery last evening. Other officials for the ensuing year are as follows: Honorary presidents, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Hon. Walter C.
Nichol; vice-presidents, F. B. Pemberton, Miss Crease, R. F. Leale, T.
Bamford; secretary, J. R. Simmona;
treasurer, J. S. McMillan; committee,

Loveland, Miss Lettice, Mrs. W. B.
Young, H. M. McGivern, Mrs. R.
Willis, Capt. Harrison, R. Nairne, D.
Cameron, Mrs. B. S. Hartley and Mrs.
Anstie.

A plea for better support of the art gallery at the Crystal Garden to avert its closing was made by F. N.
Pemberton in his address. Mr. Pemberton stated that the gallery should be a civic one, supported by the city at large, and not left entirely to the responsibility of the Club, whose membership was comparatively small.
The suggestion that the Provincial Government be asked for assistance in its upkeep was left in the hands of a committee who will look into the matter.

Thanks were expressed to Ivan
Awde, manager of the Crystal Garden, for his interest and kindly help,
and to Mrs. L. B. Kent and J. S. Mc-Millan for their untiring energy and devoted services to the society.

FINANCES SOUND
J. S. McMillan in his financial statement showed that $115 remained in the treasury after the payment of all expenses from the recent exhibition, the receipts from which had amounted to $778. The sum of $40, representing the receipts of the final week, and been handed over to the Society fund.

His annual report as secretary reviewed the year's activities. There had been lectures by Archdeacon Laycock on "Architecture," illustrated with lantern views of the principal architectural edifices, including churches in England; by John Kyle, who had spoken on "Scottish Art,
Past and Present"; by Miss Catharine Lothian, on "Pottery and the Foster's Craft"; by Stewart Dick, of London, England, on "Art of Yesterday and To-day."

EXHIBITS OF WORK
Exhibitions held under the auspices of the society had included Mrs. Con-nor's, held in the Union Building rooms; Mrs. Hookham's exhibition of hand-woven articles; several individual exhibitions of work by local artists, Mrs. Bullen, T. Bamford, Miss Donagh, D. Cameron, Major Leslie, and students of Mrs. Uthoff's art school.

The report also referred to the activities of the Sketch Club, which goes out sketching every Tuesday, and meets monthly for criticisms of work.

Wall Street TO-DAY

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, Nov. 19 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—Mixed movements were featured to-day, early rallies brought out a liberal supply of stock under which a sharp reactionary development occurred. Baldwin was the feature of the early dealings, rallying sharply under stimulus of covering operations and helped to impart an improved tone to the general stock list.

Radio was also in special demand, likewise many of the recent specialty favorites, but the early afternoon witnessed heavy pressure on Steel common due to reports of curtailment in operations this week and accounted for a sharp decline in the premier steel issue below yesterday's low with proportionate reactions occurring in other industrial leaders.

The formal order issued by President Machado of Cuba limiting next year's sugar crop, accounted for a sharp decline in the sugar issue, though later they met with profit taking. The four dollar Gulf Mobile and Northern Pfd. dividend declared represented $1.50 on the quarter, a quarterly payment, while the balance represented a reduction in accumulation on this stock from $20 to $17.

The sharp rallies occurring in special issues are a natural reflection of an oversold condition, but during the rallying tendencies there has been in all probability a good sized load placed on this market which will appear to be thinning under, and while sharp rallies in specialties may occur from time to time, we look for the market to seek lower level.

New York, Nov. 19 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—The Wall Street Journal's stock market edition this afternoon says: Further evidence of a weakish technical position is resulting from the recent recovery was afforded to-day.

The near crowd took advantage of the advance in the calling of loans amounting to $20,000,000 and concentrated particularly on Steel and General Motors. The latter ground easily indicating that covering by shorts who were unwilling to pay the $5.75 dividends deducted at the opening had impaired the stock's internal position.

Steel was also heavily sold on news that operations had fallen off slightly more than one per cent. from last week, and that further curtailment was likely. As the speculative frenzy has fallen into the habit of taking its cue from the action of General Motors and Steel, the sharp declines in these stocks were followed by heavy selling throughout the list.

Pressure spread from the industrial to the active-raised during the last hour, and the market was weak in the late afternoon. There were few changes in the Federal Reserve reports by Greeks. Although the commercial statement showed a drop of $14,100,000 in total bills discounted by member banks, the reserve ratio suffered a slight impairment from 74 per cent. to 73.7 per cent. Total deposits increased nearly $40,000,000, thus calling for additional reserves. At this centre bills discounted fell $26,000,000, with a slight increase in reserve ratio to 8.3 per cent.

Colorless as the changes are current reports tend to emphasize the stable monetary conditions now prevailing. The money market, despite the occasional furies in call money and local causes, gives evidence of increasing ease. Bankers do not look for any change in this respect in the coming winter months.

The house of the expected to get along without much recourse to federal reserve credit.

With the strength of the credit situation forming a bulwark against bearish operations, buying activities went ahead confidently in many sections of the list through the first hour.

Radio Corporation pushed into new high ground for the year at 61%, responding to the high rate of the company's current business which gave strong assurance record earnings for the last quarter.

Baldwin also achieved the best levels in 1926, selling at 142. The pressure was concentrated on Steel common following the announcement that the corporation's subsidiaries were producing 80 to 82% capacity, a decrease of more than one per cent from a week ago. This reduction was made to keep output in line with shipments and the expectation in steel circles was further slight curtailment would be seen in the coming weeks.

Steel common was forced back to low levels of the morning high, 134%, of 2%, from its morning high, and proportionate recessions occurred in other industrial leaders. New York Central sold off two points to 134%, and other active carrier stocks experienced similar losses. Rumors were current that George W. Baker was ill, but it was learned from unquestionable sources that Mr. Baker is in excellent health.

A SERIAL STORY

"The Unwilling Adventuress"

By MILDRED BARBOUR

He made short work of the desk. It did not yield the object of his search. Next, he tried the bedroom. There were many possible hiding places for a letter and he had little time to waste, but, wise in the ways of women, he stepped to the door, turned up the mattress, and was instantly rewarded.

A flat, apparently discarded handbag lay on the springs. It contained a miscellaneous collection of papers and at the bottom, the letter addressed in the dead Russian's sprawling hand.

When the French woman returned, he was seated in the salon, smoking a cigarette.

At the same hour, many miles from Paris, in the driveway, it contained the hemlocks still sombre and shadowy for all the bright sunlight that followed the storm of the previous night, an elderly man of erect, military carriage, stood staring at the smoldering ruins of what had once been the chateau where Doris was held a prisoner.

Had she been known to Doris's freedom from all her pursuers was assured by the simple act of the caretaker when he lit the fire in the salon on the previous afternoon, that she might play the piano in comfort.

The raging wind, accompanying the storm, had torn in through the window left open by Doris in her flight and had fanned the dying embers and the flame had reached out to lick the nearest tapestries, frail, dusty, so much tinder. Before the caretakers still doggedly searching, were aware of what was happening, the old chateau was in flames. The sketchy fire apparatus, from the village was of no avail. No human aid could prevail against the torrent of that wind. The chateau was doomed from the start.

The caretakers, frightened by the mysterious events of the day, turned sullen and silent. A young lady had been at the chateau. She was gone. Until they had word from Hartley, they refused to say whether she had escaped from the ill-fated chateau, or whether her ashes were somewhere in the smoldering ruins.

Doris, it seemed, had disappeared from the face of the earth.

CHAPTER LXIII

The Count was returning to Paris for the second time within a week, and for the second time, he had met with disaster. Both trips had been in the nature of a wild goose chase. He was in no very pleasant frame of mind. He was angry and ready for trouble.

His hasty visit to Russia had been a farce with the laugh all on him. It had been no easy matter getting a passport under the Soviet regime. He had to put all manner of wires. It had been expensive and the traveling was abominable. He liked ease and comfort. He'd half frozen on the heavily trip for all his fur-lined topcoat. And then, at the end of the journey, after all the nuisance of the customs and the rest—

At the end of the journey, there were no jewels, no brilliant diamonds behind a blackened brick in the fireplace of a peasant's cottage. There was no cottage. There had never been such a cottage. There could never be an aristocrat and titled family such as the dead poet had claimed was his.

The cottage, the family, the jewels themselves were a pure fabrication of the Russian's unbalanced mind. Count Romeo had found that out for a certainty.

In the village where Ivan Ivanoff had claimed to have hidden himself from the Revolutionists and left behind him his family jewels, the townspeople had laughed at the Count's interrogations. They had come of a moderately well to do family—that was all.

The Count left the little village with a face like a thundercloud. He had been neatly tricked by the poet's farewell letter to Doris. Had she been tricked too, he wondered? Had she made the fruitless journey only to learn the truth, as he had?

On the return trip, he read in the newspapers of the burning of Hartley's chateau and he believed that a young woman, who had been a guest there, had perished in the flames. He smiled to himself.

By now, Doris must be safely in Paris.

But she was not. Her apartment was still dark and empty. The French woman had received no word, she said. The Count went to the nearest cafe where his intimates were wont to gather.

You're behind the times if you don't know that Cod Liver Extract is one of the greatest flesh producers in the world.

Because it contains more vitalizing vitamins than any food you can get. You'll be glad to know that McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets come in sugar coated form now, so if you really want to put 10 or 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh on your bones and feel well and strong and have a complexion that people will admire—ask Vancouver Drug Co., MacFarlane Drug Co., Owl Drug Co., or any drug-gist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets.

Only 60 cents for 60 tablets and if you don't gain five pounds in 30 days your drug-gist is authorized to hand you back the money paid for them. It isn't anything unusual for a person to gain 10 pounds in 30 days, and for old people with feebleness overtaking them they work wonders. (Adv.)

for dinner. Not one of them had seen or heard of Doris since she had been there last with him.

The Count became more angry than ever—at Doris, this time. He was striding out of the cafe when he came face to face with Hartley.

The later was looking angry too—and dangerous.

"What have you done with Miss Mackay?" he demanded of the Count, baring his way to the door.

"That's a question for me to ask you," sneered the Count. "What have you done with my wife?"

"Your wife!" echoed Hartley. The diners at nearby tables turned at the sound of the angry voices, neglecting their food and wine.

"Precisely," said the Count with a thin smile. "She was more than my fiancée. We were already married when you carried her off. You have stolen my wife!"

"That's a lie you cur!" Hartley's clenched fist struck the Italian full in the face. He staggered and fell backward over a table.

The crash upset a bottle of wine which poured over two indignant diners, who immediately added their voluble Latin protests to the hubbub.

The Count regained his balance, wiped his assaulted face tenderly with his handkerchief.

"You will give me satisfaction for this public insult, M'sieur," he said furiously. "My friends will wait upon you yet this evening."

"A duel!" asked Hartley with a short laugh. "Very well, I shall meet you with pleasure. In the meantime, where is the lady I am seeking?"

"Alas, M'sieur, I wish I knew!" said the Count in heartfelt tones, momentarily forgetting his fury. Then, he remembered his dignity bowed ironically, and turned to his friends who were already clustering around him.

"A duel!" thought Hartley with a grim smile, as he left the cafe. "Well, I don't care. But if only I knew Doris was safe. Of course that hound has her shut up somewhere, and if I'm killed, he'll put through that abominable marriage right away. I wonder if he knows I'm a crack shot."

Before he turned in that night, it was arranged with the Count's seconds that he meet that gentleman with pistols just after dawn the following morning at Fontainebleau, outside Paris.

CHAPTER LXIV

Hartley, Sr., was sitting in the gracious shade of the garden of his villa at Cannes, watching with a tight smile the approach of his son along the gravelled path from the gateway.

A taxi chauffeur, laden with luggage, followed him.

At the sight of his father, young Hartley smiled and changed his course, crossing the garden to the miniature trees under which his parent took the air in a comfortable chaise longue. The young man was looking rather haggard, but he did not flinch from the stern parental eye.

"The prodigal has returned, eh? Well, don't expect the fatted calf!" Young Hartley motioned the chauffeur to precede him to the house and gave him a tip for his services. Then he flung himself down in a chair opposite his father, removed his hat and dropped it on the grass beside his chair. He grinned a shade ruefully.

"Rather, sir, I expect a good many questions."

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Lumpy Cushion

Copyright, 1926, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"There is no use," said the Wozzie Wolf to the Fuzzy Fox, "trying to catch that Uncle Wiggily rabbit by tricks."

"I believe you are right," agreed the Fox. "I tried the trick of catching him when he was getting his shoes shined, but it didn't work."

"The sun was too bright," went on the Wolf. "But I have another idea now."

"What is it?" asked the Fox, as he ran his red tongue over his white teeth to see if there was anything on them to eat. But there was not a crumb. "What is your idea, sir?"

"I'll have to ask Dottie first."

"Well, all right then."

"Sorry, Pop, but Dottie objects."

"Well, why didn't you tell her I was going along?"

"I did—that's why she kicked."

"He hurled his cushion."

Wolf, if I may be so bold as to ask you kindly to tell me? Oh, the Fox could be very polite when he wished.

"My plan is this," growled the Wolf. "We shall go boldly up to Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow, some evening, ring the bell, walk in and bring him out to nibble him."

"But if we go, there in the evening before the little rabbit children are in bed," objected the Fox, "they'll see us and they will scream and cry and the Police Dog will come."

"That's just it!" said the Wolf with a smile. "The reason I think it will be best for us to go in the evening is that all the rabbits will be awake. They will be playing games, singing and laughing for there is no home work to do Saturday night. The Police Dog is used to hearing loud shouts of the rabbit children in the hollow stump bungalow on Saturday night. If there are a few more yells, when we take Uncle Wiggily away, that will not matter. The Police Dog will only smile and say it is Uncle Wiggily's bunnies playing."

"Perhaps you are right," said the Fox. "I know I am right," declared the Wolf. "Come on. It will soon be evening and we'll have a rabbit for a late supper."

When the two bad chaps reached the hollow stump bungalow they could hear the merry shouts and laughter of the rabbit children. Oh, such a jolly racket as there was.

"What did I tell you?" whispered the Wolf. "A few yells, more or less will make no difference. Come on now, we'll boldly ring the bell and go in to get Uncle Wiggily."

"He is playing a pillow game with the little bunnies," softly said the Fox looking in the door. "Jingle and Jangle and the other rabbit children are throwing pillows and cushions at their father and he is tossing cushions back at them. Hear them yell!"

"The more they yell now the less they will yell when we carry off their father," said the Wolf. "Come along!"

Boldly the two bad chaps walked up the steps and rang the bell. Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy answered, and when she opened the door the Fox and Wolf impolitely and rudely pushed right past her.

"Where are you going and what do you want?" asked the muskrat lady. "We are going to get Uncle Wiggily!" snarled the Wolf, and then he pushed open the door where Uncle Wiggily was having a pillow and cushion fight with the rabbits.

"Oh, Daddies! Look!" yelled Jingle and Jangle and Tumble and Bumble and all the others. "The bad chaps are here."

"Oh, are they?" asked Uncle Wiggily, knowing not the least sign of fear. "Well, they don't belong here. You must go right out!" he said to the Fox and Wolf.

"What if we won't go?" asked the Wolf, sneering like.

"Then I'll throw my chair cushion at you!" said Uncle Wiggily, picking it up off the floor.

"Pooh! Who is afraid of a soft cushion?" laughed the Fox. "Throw away as much as you like!"

"I'll not throw a lump one," exclaimed the rabbit. With that he hurled his cushion, and it struck the Fox and Wolf on the head with such a hard bang that the saw stars and a moon and part of the sun and they thought it was going to rain; so out of the bungalow they ran, a bit dizzy like, but not taking Uncle Wiggily with them.

"Oh, Daddies, what made your soft cushion so hard and lumpy like all of a sudden?" asked Jingle.

"Because, my dear," answered her father, "I put a flat iron inside through a little hole I ripped as soon as I saw the bad chaps. It was a hard flat iron that made my cushion lumpy!"

"Oh, what a good joke!" laughed the little bunnies. But the Fox and Wolf didn't think so. Anyhow that's what happened, and if the slice of toast doesn't slip on the lump of butter and slide into the sugar bowl, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's toothbrush.

Forest fires annually waste more timber acreage than the lumber industry cuts.

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monocetate-acetate of Salicylic Acid (Acetyl-Salicylic Acid, "A. S. A."). While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

WARNING!
Beware of Counterfeits

There is only one genuine "ASPIRIN" tablet. If a tablet is offered as "ASPIRIN" and is not stamped with the "Bayer Cross"—refuse it with contempt—it is not "ASPIRIN" at all! Don't take chances!

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proven directions. Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets. Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists.

NEW MEMBERS FOR VETERANS OF FRANCE

Progress Reported at General Meeting Last Night

The Veterans of France Association held an important general meeting last night in the club rooms at Douglas and Courtney Streets, with President G. E. Greene in the chair. The meeting was well attended and several matters of urgent importance were discussed and dealt with. The announcement of the fact that twenty-nine new members had recently joined the local branch was met with applause, and it was pointed out that the association has been gaining rapidly in membership during the last few months. The meeting unanimously decided to appoint a membership committee with a view to establishing the strongest ex-service branch in Victoria. A communication was received from Gen. Sir Percy Lake, president of the Canadian Legion of the B.E.F. S.L., in which he outlined certain clauses of the provisional constitution of that body. The local unit decided to await developments which may be more clearly defined at the forthcoming convention of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League. The meeting appointed a delegate to attend a combined gathering of ex-service club representatives who will meet for the purpose of organizing monthly social functions at which all veterans will be invited to participate. The branch decided that the usual Christmas tree festival for members' children will be held; also the Christmas dinner for members, dates of these events to be announced later.

REALTOR GIVES NEWLYWEDS A BIT OF ADVICE

"Don't be Afraid of Right Kind of Debt," He Says,
Urging Home Ownership

"Don't be afraid to go into the right kind of debt," is the optimistic advice of W. Burke Harmon, realtor, to the newlyweds of the country, in a statement recently issued. "Plan from the beginning to own your own home; don't pay rent a month longer than necessary," he adds.

"There are two outstanding reasons why the newly-married people should own a home of their own," said Mr. Harmon. "One has to do with material gain and the other with the psychological effect."

FIRST TEN YEARS THE HARDEST

"The gain in home ownership over renting is seldom evident for the first ten years, during which the mortgage is being paid off. But after this period the difference in profit is considerable."

"The psychological reason for owning your own home is concerned with happiness rather than material gain. When a young couple sign a mortgage they go into debt and accept a definite responsibility. They immediately assume community interest. They have a mutual ambition to work for, and a mutual goal. The right sort of debt is a real incentive to the newly married couple."

SOME GUIDES TO OWNERSHIP

"Once the newlyweds have decided on home ownership they should be guided by the following considerations:

"If their ready cash is very limited, they should buy a house already constructed and financed, from a builder able to take a minimum down payment."

"If they have ready cash to the extent of 30 per cent of the amount they want to pay for a home, they can buy a lot and build a new house cheaper than they can buy one finished. They will avoid extra financing cost and possibly a promoter's profit."

HOW TO AVOID UNSIGHTLINESS

"If in building they cannot employ the services of an architect then they should use some of the many sketch plans which some of the eminent architects have prepared and made generally available at a negligible cost. Otherwise the result may be an unsightly home with small resale value."

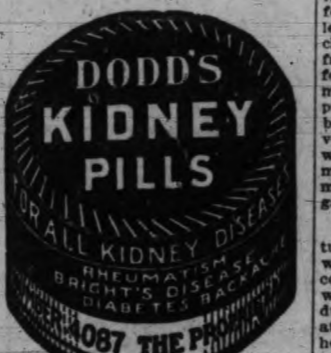

"When the plans and specifications are decided upon they should contract with a builder to complete the house within a set figure. No one with limited resources should build a house on a cost-plus basis."

ADVICE FOR THE ASKING

"In securing a building loan remember that the bank or building and loan association is very glad to assist you with much valuable advice, if you will ask for it. You should be able to borrow up to 65 or 70 per cent of the cost of your house and lot."

"In budgeting your finances, don't put every cent of your cash into your lot and your home. On an investment of $5,000 you should have approximately $200 extra to take care of surveyor's fees, loan costs, and other incidentals."

MAIL BOXES MAY BE REGROUPED ON SAANICH ROUTES

Saanich Council Discusses Means to End Dangerous Condition

Proposals to align rural mail boxes on one side of all highways in Saanich were last night before the municipal council.

Danger was stated to exist in the present haphazard location of mail boxes. The council was reminded of two recent collisions between motorists and mail collection cars which were operating on the wrong side of the highway. Postal regulations require the mailman to remain in his vehicle, it was pointed out.

Councillor Vantreigh objected that general alignment of mail boxes would create danger for children sent for mail, who would have to cross the peril of fast traffic by crossing the road. Councillor Hagan pointed out that visits to the mail box should be no more dangerous than visits to neighbors. Councillor Kirkham saw in alignment expenses of unknown magnitude. Reeve Macnicol pointed out that the Postal Department had not control of highways, which is vested in the municipality. Councillor Kirkham at last suggested "submit the change to a referendum," and was surprised to find advocates of the proposal.

Finally the proposal was tabled until next meeting, after suggestions had been made to refer action to the incoming council.

First Steps Taken To Raise New Loan For Waterworks

To provide $25,000 for extension of the Saanich waterworks, the municipal council last night put through preliminary readings a by-law specifying an interest rate of five per cent on an issue of thirty-year debentures. The by-law will specify the new Cloverdale Avenue twelve-inch main and an extension on Grant Street, at location of betterments, the remainder of the loan to be unassigned. The measure will be submitted to the ratepayers at the next municipal elections.

Final reading was given the by-law authorizing purchase of the crest of Mt. Tolmie for use as a public park.

OAK BAY MAY HAVE FIRE DEPARTMENT

Council Now Investigating Matter, Reeve H. S. Ancomb
Announces

Oak Bay municipality may, in the near future, have its own fire department, according to an announcement made by Reeve Herbert S. Ancomb at the meeting of the Oak Bay Council held last night.

The Reeve stated that the council were investigating the matter and intended to give it their fullest consideration. However, nothing will be done until the coming year.

A present Oak Bay is protected from fire by an agreement with the city of Victoria, whereby one engine is kept ready for immediate use at the Duchess Street station. For this protection Oak Bay pays a certain annual sum to the city.

An exceedingly light agenda faced the council last night, only a number of minor questions being brought forward.

A communication from E. H. M. Foot requesting additional repairs to Dovedney Avenue was referred to the works committee who will inform Mr. Foot that the council is now considering the repairing of this road.

According to the water commissioner's report for the month of October Oak Bay consumed 5,606,250 imperial gallons of water, compared with 4,462,500 gallons for the same month last year.

Keating

Keating, Nov. 19.—Misses Isobel McNally, Oona Young, Nellie Stiya and Margaret Michell will act as hostesses at the fortnightly card party, to be held by the South Saanich Women's Institute, in the Temperance Hall, on Saturday evening, November 20.

The Young People's Club of the South Saanich United Church met on Wednesday evening with a large attendance of members and visitors. Miss Chrissie MacNab, presiding. Final plans were made for entertaining the inmates of the Aged Men's and Women's Homes in Victoria on the evenings of December 2 and 3.

A programme was arranged. The play, "All on Account of Polly," will be presented at the Temperance Hall, Wednesday, November 24, by the club members, also at Royal Oak on November 26 and at Sidney on November 30. It was decided to sell ice cream at the performance on Wednesday. The date, arranged for the next meeting by the intellectual convener, has been cancelled as the members are too busy to participate and it was decided to obtain a speaker for that night.

Left in charge of Miss Alma Heyer. A challenge was received and accepted from the Sidney Young People's Club for a debate some time after Christmas. After the business meeting a ping-pong tournament was arranged by Mr. Albert Hafer, athletic convener, and several exciting games were witnessed, after which refreshments were served by the social committee. Misses Isla Lawrie and Margaret Michell.

The South Saanich Women's Institute have now completed their two-wool comforters as the result of their combined labors at the wool bees, which they have held at intervals during the past few years. A good attendance was on hand at the bee held in the rooms on Wednesday, when several comforters were completed and stitched.

FOOL BAY SEEKING SAFE PLAYGROUND

Parent-Teacher Association
Behind Drive For Sports
Field

The Margaret Jenkins Parent-Teacher Association is endeavoring to arrange for a community playground adjacent to the school, where children can play ball and other games without endangering their lives due to auto traffic.

In taking this as their season's main objective, the Parent-Teacher Association is working for a worthy cause, there being no grounds large enough in the district where children can play with any degree of safety.

In order to raise funds for the above objective, the Parent-Teacher Association has arranged a series of dances, bazaars, etc. The first dance will be in the form of a masquerade dance and five hundred party, to be held in the school auditorium, Friday, December 3. The Parent-Teacher Association ask for donations from the parents and friends in the district for the following stalls, fancy work, home cooking, aprons and plain sewing, candy, afternoon tea, school children's store and novelties.

Shirley

Shirley, Nov. 19.—A most interesting meeting of the Shirley Women's Institute was held at Mahab Farm, the home of Mrs. W. H. Anderson, last Saturday afternoon. All members were present, the president, Mrs. J. Sullivan, being in the chair. Mrs. Anderson gave a demonstration of rag-rug-making, which was very instructive as she is an invariable prize winner in that section at exhibitions.

Mrs. D. C. Milligan, delegate to the Island's district conference, gave her report which was adopted and a vote of thanks passed to the delegate. A committee consisting of Mrs. J. Sullivan, Mrs. Kirby and Mrs. Aspray, was appointed to collect and arrange for the Christmas tree for the Shirley children.

A letter from Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan, superintendent of women's institutes asking for donations to the luncheon to be given by the institutes at the potato, bulb and seed fair to be held in Victoria next week, met with a generous response. A selection of bottled wild fruit, pickles, bread, cakes and pumpkins will be sent, and the president will help at table. A letter from the Canadian Red Cross offering to arrange for a course of lectures on home nursing, was laid over till next meeting.

Mrs. Palmer, secretary of Victoria Women's Institute, wrote stating that its members were heartily in sympathy with the resolution passed at the last meeting of the Shirley Women's Institute, that Thanksgiving Day and Armistice Day should be kept separate, and that November 11 should be a public holiday "for remembrance." This resolution was also endorsed by the Victoria branch of the Canadian Legion. A letter was read from "Observer" of the Family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal, saying he was "ever so glad to find someone doing something towards assuring a Christian observance of Armistice Day and also of Thanksgiving Day."

Appreciation was expressed at the action of the Sooke branch of the British Empire Service League, in arranging and holding a service at the Memorial in Sooke on November 11, in sympathy with the resolution of the Shirley Women's Institute.

Mrs. N. B. Milligan was welcomed as a new member. Delicious refreshments were served, and a hearty vote of thanks to the hostess for her hospitality was passed before the meeting adjourned.

The oldest couple in England is believed to be Mrs. and Mrs. J. E. Taylor. Each is 102.
